GOOGLE HIT BY FRESH ANTITRUST CHARGES

European Union regulators hit Google with fresh antitrust charges on Wednesday, saying the only way to satisfy competition concerns about its lucrative digital ad business is by selling off parts of the tech giant's main moneymaker. The unprecedented decision to push for such a breakup marks a significant escalation by Brussels in its crackdown on Silicon Valley digital giants, and follows a similar move by US authorities.

Cash-for-jobs scam: ED grip lands TN min in hosp

Senthil Balaji remanded in judicial custody till June 28

C SHIVAKUMAR @Chennai

ELECTRICITY Minister V Senthil Balaji was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Wednesday under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) and was remanded to judicial custody till June 28 in a cash-for-jobs scam. He was arrested around 1.30am on Wednesday, following raids on his premises since Tuesday morning. Even as the minister's counsel filed an application seeking bail before a city court, the ED moved a petition seeking 15-day custody of the minister for interrogation.

Sessions Court Principal Judge S Alli adjourned the hearing in EB petition for custody to June 15 (Thursday) and directed the minister's counsel to file a reply. She visited the hospital where Balaji was admitted before passing the order. The judge has also reserved orders on a bail application and another plea to shift him to a private hospital for performing heart surgery.

Balaji was hospitalised in the wee hours of Wednesday after he complained of chest pain following his arrest after an 18-hour search operation at his home, secretariat and several other places across the state. Balaji was hospitalised after complaining of uneasiness, DMK leaders said. HR &CE minister P K Sekarbabu said there were "symptoms" that Balaji was "tortured". TV visuals showed Balaji feeling uneasy and crying while being brought to hospital. "He is in the ICU. He was in an unconscious state and did not respond when we called him by his name. He is under observation...there is a swelling near his ear. Doctors say there is variation in his ECG (electrocardiogram)... these are symptoms of torture," Babu told reporters.

Balaji "underwent Coronary Angiogram at 10.40am" today, said a medical bulletin issued by the director of the Tamil Nadu Government Multi Super Speciality Hospital, Omandurar Estate. The ED was believed to be taking Balaji to its office in Nungambakkam for further interrogation when he broke down and screamed of chest pain forcing the CRPF personnel to rush him to Intensive Care Unit in Omandurar Hospital, sources said. Centre trying to break Oppn unity: Kharge

Kalaburagi: AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge condemned the Enforcement Directorate for arresting Tamil Nadu Electricity Minister V Senthil Balaji. "The Union Government wants to break the opposition unity by indirectly threatening the leaders of opposition parties through such arrests. We will not give in to such pressure tactics," he said. P6

Stalin: He suffered chest pain due to torture

Chennai: Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin on Wednesday accused ED officials of "enacting a drama" in the name of enquiry and accused them of "physically and mentally troubling" Senthil Balaji. "They had pressured him to the point of him suffering a chest pain," Stalin said in a statement hours after the ED arrested Balaji in a money laundering probe. P7

Centre suspends sale of rice for states, Siddu says Anna Bhagya main target

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday attacked the Union government for discontinuing the sale of wheat and rice to states under the Open Market Sale Scheme (OMSS). He alleged that it was a conspiracy to stop the Karnataka Congress government from implementing the 'Anna Bhagya' guarantee scheme -- 10kgs of free rice to every member of a BPL family from July 1, as promised in the run-up to the May 10 assembly polls.

Siddaramaiah shows the letter by Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

The Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, in a letter to the chairman and managing director of Food Corporation of India, dated June 13, stated that the sale of wheat and rice under OMSS (Domestic) for state governments was discontinued. CONTINUED ON: P6

CENTRE DEFENDS MOVE

The Centre has defended its move to discontinue the sale of wheat and rice to the states. "To ensure that the inflationary trends are kept under control while ensuring adequate stock levels in the Central pool, it has been decided to exclude schemes of state governments from the ambit of OMSS(D) this time," it stated.

Sedition charges against Bidar school quashed

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

THE Kalaburagi Bench of the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday quashed the sedition charges against members of Bidar's Shaheen Group of Institutions' management committee for staging a play on "anti-CAA" theme at their school in January 2020. The petitioner had alleged that the play had slogans against Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the Centre and also had dialogues that disturbed communal harmony.

In his judgment, Justice Hemant Chandangoudar stated that the petitioner failed to provide sufficient proof.

Over 50,000 evacuated, 69 trains cancelled as Guj braces for Biparjoy

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

WITH Cyclone Biparjoy set to make landfall at Jakhau port in Gujarat's Kutch district on Thursday evening, authorities are racing against time to ensure zero casualty and minimum damage. On Wednesday, over 50,000 people were evacuated from vulnerable areas to temporary shelters.

In view of the safety of passengers, 69 trains have been cancelled, 33 trains short-terminated and 27 trains short-originated, Western Railways said on Wednesday.

Air services will also be affected as officials said the Bhuj airport terminal will remain closed till Friday.

On Wednesday, Gujarat Chief Minister Bhupender Patel chaired a high-level meeting to assess the state's readiness for the very severe cyclone.

Union defence minister Rajnath Singh also spoke to the three service chiefs to review the preparations of the armed forces to deal with the impact of the cyclone. He said the defence forces will assist civil authorities in tackling any contingency due to the cyclone.

The India Meteorological Department said the cyclone is expected to make landfall as a very severe cyclonic storm with top wind speeds of up to 150 kmph. It warned that roads could be flooded, crops damaged and houses destroyed.

Regarding Tariff Revision/ Hike
As per the Indian Electricity Act, all States have set up Electricity Regulatory Commissions for regulation and tariff fixation in the electricity distribution companies.
Accordingly, the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC) was set up in 2002. The KERC has been taking up the issue of tariff fixation every year for the 5 Electricity Supply Companies (ESCOMs) in the State.
The ESCOMs file the Expected Return from Charges (ERC) filings in November every year to the KERC.
After examining the submissions and after consultation with all stakeholders and giving opportunity to the public, KERC determines and notifies the tariffs usually by end of March for the financial year starting 1st April.
In the present year, the KERC tariff order was notified on 12-05-2023, somewhat delayed because of legislative elections and code of conduct.
The New Government in the State was formed on 20-05-2023; that is, the tariff order was notified prior to formation of the new Government.
The Tariff revision came into force from the billing cycle of June 2023.
The June bill appears to be high because of the 2 factors below:
1. Impact of 2 months' increase in tariff.
2. Impact of high power purchase cost in the month of March 2023.
It is expected that bills of subsequent months would be relatively less.
The Government has also taken the decision to pass on benefit to the domestic consumers for the July consumption to be billed from 1st August 2023 under the Gruha Jyothi Scheme.
The ESCOMs have been directed to look into the genuine grievances of the consumers and resolve those. Depending on circumstances, the ESCOMS may give extension of time for payment of bills.
Arrears on domestic installations can be paid up to September 2023 as part of the Gruha Jyothi Scheme.

Permanent solution found for 118 flood-prone areas, temporary for 80 spots: BBMP chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a series of meetings with Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar on monsoon preparedness in the city, 118 flood-prone areas out of 198 have been provided with a permanent solution and 80 with temporary ones, said Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Wednesday.

Girinath told the media that a meeting was held with top officials on monsoon preparedness where further measures to be taken were worked out.

The meeting decided that two megapixel CCTV cameras will be installed at 53 underpasses. Emergency repair works have already been undertaken in 41 underpasses and work on 12 more will be taken up, he explained. "Authorities have been instructed to install CCTV cameras and electric lights as well as rain gauges to find out the amount of rainwater immediately so that there are no problems in the underpasses. All these sensitive areas will be inspected again to ensure that there are no problems," Girinath said.

The civic body will keep a close watch on flood-prone areas. Pump-sets will be kept on standby in sensitive areas wherever there are complaints of water stagnation and flooding. Girinath stressed that teams will be ready to reach the affected areas at the earliest. Personnel from the forest wing will immediately rush to the spot wherever there are complaints of tree fall.

He said officials have been instructed to resolve complaints from citizens quickly to ensure that no situation goes out of hand.

Due to works undertaken by Bengaluru Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL), Bengaluru Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB), Bengaluru Electricity Supply Company (BESCOM), Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL) and other departments in Bengaluru, drains and road surfaces have been damaged, causing water to seep through the roads during the rainy season and water stagnation. To address this, a coordination meeting with all the departments will be held under the chairmanship of the Deputy Chief Secretary and Administrator of the Urban Development Department to resolve the issues, Girinath said.

"Senior officials of respective zones should ensure that no problem occurs during monsoon. If there are any problems due to stormwater drains, or in flood-prone areas and under bridges, officials have been instructed to take up inspection and address the issue immediately," he added.

Lorry owners threaten to go on indefinite stir from today

Bengaluru: Following on their complaint to Deputy CM DK Shivakumar alleging "harassment" by Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike marshals, lorry owners have now threatened to go on an indefinite strike from Thursday. Lorry owners have accused the marshals of seizing their vehicles and imposing penalties for ferrying and dumping construction debris. Federation of Karnataka Lorry Owners' and Agents' Association president GR Shanmugappa on Wednesday said, "Despite assurance to us from Deputy CM D K Shivakumar that lorry owners who follow the rules will not be penalised, BBMP marshals are still harassing and imposing a penalty of Rs 10,000 on lorry operators." He warned of indefinite strike from Thursday if there is no written assurance from BBMP Commissioner Tushar Girinath that the marshals will not harass lorry owners. Girinath said he had directed the Solid Waste Management commissioner of Palike to look into the issue. ENS

KCET RESULTS TO BE OUT TODAY

Bengaluru: The Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) results will be announced at 11 am on Thursday. Candidates can access the results by login in on the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) website (kea.kar.nic.in) with their registration numbers. As many as 2.6 lakh students wrote the test on May 20 and May 21. Earlier, TNIE had reported that the results were likely to be announced on June 15, despite they being ready on June 14 evening, as the authority wanted to give a full day to students to sort out any issues with their results. KEA Executive Director Ramya S said if the results were announced in the evening, it would have left little time for students to rectify any issues. ENS

Daughters-in-law abuse elderly women more in B'luru: Report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DAUGHTERS-in-law are the main perpetrators of abuse of elderly women in Bengaluru, according to a report by HelpAge India. The report, "Women and Ageing: Invisible or Empowered?", released on the eve of "World Elder Abuse Awareness Day" is said to be the first of its kind, focusing on elderly women in 20 states, including Karnataka, and two Union Territories and five metro cities, including Bengaluru.

Of the 7,911 samples from various socio-economic categories in the country, 578 were from Karnataka. According to the survey, 49% of the respondents in Bengaluru considered abuse to be prevalent and 52% believed disrespect to be a form of abuse. According to the report, 36% of the abuse was economic exploitation, failure to provide necessary care (30%), and physical abuse (10%).

The Bengaluru study revealed that 51% of the abuse was by daughters-in-law, 40% by sons, 18% by sons-in-law and 24% by relatives. At the national level, sons (40%) were the main perpetrators, followed by relatives (31%) and daughters-in-law (27%). Dr Indira Jai Prakash, former professor of psychology and gerontologist, who is on the advisory board of HelpAge India, said, "In this study, we focused on the gender angle for the first time. According to the national data, 81% of elderly women live with their families, which is a good sign. Of the abused women, only 16% reported it and 43% feared about getting physically harmed."

She said 56% of elderly women lacked awareness of redressal mechanisms, only 15% were aware of the Maintenance & Welfare of Parents & Senior Citizens Act, and 78% of them were not aware of any government welfare schemes.

"We should raise awareness among the people against abuse of elderly women and promote elderly-friendly working environment to improve their quality of life. So that they too can live with dignity," she said.

Dr Manjula, Secretary, Department of Women and Child Development, said the report will help the government to structure programmes to help reduce abuse of elderly women.

FREE, BUT SOME CHOOSE TO PAY THEIR WAY

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

WITH the Shakti scheme, which offers free bus travel for women, receiving an overwhelming response across the state, some women are choosing to pay the fares as they say that they can afford it.

"For my financial condition, I can afford to pay for my journey in BMTC buses. So I chose to pay and I feel proud of doing so. If others are also financially sound, they can consider giving up the free travel benefit," said a woman passenger, who did not wish to be named.

Shaheen Shasa of Bengaluru Bus Prayanikara Vedike said if women wish to travel by paying for their journey they should be allowed to do so and be issued regular tickets. "If any woman wants to pay and travel, there is nothing stopping them," she said.

"I think women should be allowed to pay if they are willing. In fact, several are already doing that. The idea is to empower women with freedom to move and access opportunities. Women who are frequent users of buses may also consider taking a monthly pass that allows them to take all types of buses. My daughter buys her own tickets," said Srinivas Alavilli, citizen activist and a regular commuter of BMTC.

Officials from KSRTC and BMTC told TNIE that they have instructed conductors to give regular tickets to women who voluntarily wish to pay the fares.

Record ridership

The number of women travelling in government buses under the Shakti scheme is soaring day by day. On June 13, the third day of the launch of the scheme, the women ridership in all four bus corporations - KSRTC, BMTC, NWKRTC, and KKRTC -- stood at 51.52 lakh.

The total ticket value of women passengers on June 13 stood at Rs 10.82 crore, with KSRTC registering the highest of Rs 4.12 crore, followed by NWKRTC Rs 2.72 crore, BMTC Rs 2.02 crore and KKRTC Rs 1.95 crore.

BMTC recorded the highest ridership of 20.56 lakh, followed by KSRTC 13.97 lakh, NWKRTC 11.08 lakh and KKRTC 5.89 lakh.

15th June : In English today is named after Thor, the Scandinavian god of thunder. Of course, every language has a different name, but many of them involve powerful, energetic sky gods, and that's one reason why today is generally considered a good time to take the initiative, take command and actually get things done!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Plenty is still happening on the domestic front, although some plans may run into delays. Look on the bright side, for you'll have a chance to stand still, take stock, and guard against future mistakes and misunderstandings. Besides, there are a few more days before you need to make up your mind.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Whenever the pace slows down, take the chance to rethink your plans in the light of fresh information. If other people should seem particularly critical or argumentative, don't take offence, but try to see the core of truth in their every statement.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You're slowly building up to a break with the past that may have dramatic consequences for your personal life. You need to free yourself from stale attitudes, perhaps even dabbling in lifestyle changes. Remember, it may be you who needs to adapt, not partners.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
As the day progresses, the accent may shift from concern over specific details to a more general look at new possibilities. You're in a planning phase, so think about the future and look closely at all the options that are open to you. The last thing you want to do now is throw away all that you've worked for.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You're now coming to the end of a long period when money was under the microscope. Whether you have taken chances or not is your business, but from now on your decisions may be more restricted. But, with less choice, your life will become simpler and more relaxed.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
As Jupiter pulls into a new region of your chart, it's becoming increasingly likely that you'll have to be much more determined in future. The very worst thing you can do is to take your advantages for granted. In fact, complacency could be your undoing. Stay alert!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You're going to have to take some very tough decisions, a few of which will concern work, others, personal affairs. Make sure you are well prepared, and that you have all the facts at your fingertips. Plus, try to tie up all loose ends while you still have the chance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You can begin to look forward to a period of relative emotional fulfilment. This is not upon you quite yet, but you can start to make plans, sure in the knowledge that others will soon be particularly susceptible to your charms. It is good to be popular!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Your chart is brimming with energy, indicating that much of what you turn your hand to at present is designed to enhance your standing in the community. There are friends who are prepared to help, if only you would ask. If you don't say anything, you can't complain if you're ignored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There are ways and means to enhance your general sense of self-esteem. Start by aiming for promotion at work, and also take on social responsibilities. If you question your current methods of achieving your goals, you'll realise how you can do very much better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The road to interest and excitement lies far afield. This is therefore an excellent moment to revive foreign contacts and investigate an overseas journey. If you're pursuing ambitions in higher education, or just investigating a new interest, press ahead with confidence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may be getting all steamed up about the way other people have treated you, or about their failure to fulfil their promises. One thing you cannot do is go back to the past, so concentrate on creating the future. You may already have a good sense of how events are due to pan out.

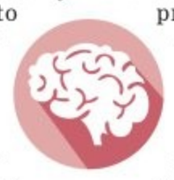
IISc develops probe for early detection of Alzheimer's

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

RESEARCHERS at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) have developed a probe to detect Alzheimer's at an early stage. They found that early stages of Alzheimer's cause an imbalance in the enzyme Acetylcholinesterase (AChE) present in muscle and nerve fibres. This serves as a potential way to detect the disease at an early stage, without having to use the common, costly detection techniques like magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), positron emission tomography (PET) scans or computed tomography (CT) scans.



The researchers developed a type of probe which turns fluorescent when put in contact with the enzyme, allowing researchers to detect an imbalance in the enzyme. This probe can be easily synthesised into a simple detection kit, which can possibly enable on-site Alzheimer's diagnosis.

"Our goal was to find a reliable, cost-effective solution. The probes are not fluorescent by themselves, but they become fluorescent upon reaction with a target enzyme," said Debasis Das, Assistant Professor, Department of Inorganic and Physical Chemistry (IPC), IISc.

As the probe is still in the proof-of-concept stage, it cannot be tested on humans. However, they have found that the probe can also help detect pesticide-related poisoning, which also causes an imbalance in AChE enzymes.

According to a study conducted by Alzheimer's Association, the prevalence of the disease in Indians over the age of 60 was 7.4 per cent, which means 8.8 million people live with Alzheimer's in the country.

Smell and taste test

Bengaluru: Scientists from the University of Warwick are working on a smell and taste test, a potential method of screening for Alzheimer's. The scientists presented their research alongside Alzheimer's Society, at an All-Party Parliamentary Group on dementia in the UK. They theorised a potential diagnostic tool, that allows early detection of Alzheimer's, so that patients can take new-age drugs to slow down or reverse the progression of the disease. There have been several studies on the loss of smell and taste in patients, years before they lose memory or display other severe symptoms. "In this test, people are given different flavours to smell and taste – to determine which is sweeter, less astringent etc. It is an easy, non-invasive test which can be rolled out to people quickly... At the moment, people who present with symptoms of memory loss are referred for MRI scans and spinal fluid tests to confirm the diagnosis. By the time memory loss occurs, things are often too late," said Professor Alan Chalmers, from Warwick Manufacturing Group, who headed the research.

ON INSPECTION TOUR, HEALTH MIN FINDS MAJOR LAPSES AT KC GENERAL

Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao inspects KC General Hospital in Bengaluru on Wednesday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao noticed several discrepancies at KC General Hospital, including non-functional wards, an inoperational mortuary, lack of air-conditioners and a poorly facilitated dialysis centre, during an inspection on Wednesday.

Currently, the hospital sees a daily footfall of 1,300-1,500 patients in the OPD. It is also running without a mortuary. A single room is dedicated to bodies which are stored for 13-15 hrs, and later sent for post-mortem if they continue to remain unidentified. Rao noticed that the mortuary situated in one corner was deserted and has remained non-functional since the pandemic, due to non-availability of cold storage facilities and forensic doctors.

Many wards, including ICU and male orthopaedic wards, remain unused due to leakages in the building. Medical Superintendent Indira Kabade and Resident Medical Officer Dr Mohan R were directed to ensure these facilities are utilised to reduce the burden on other hospitals. A trauma care centre is soon to be opened at the hospital.

Major operation theatres and the labour ward faced similar issues. Doctors said they were well-equipped but faced leakage issues frequently, since the building was very old. They also requested setting up of a maternal and child health building with ICU facilities to provide efficient care in complex cases.

The dialysis centre situated in a secluded space near the mortuary did not have wheelchairs, there were no functional ACs or drinking water facilities. Rao said these issues must be resolved at the earliest, and to set up single-use dialysis centres instead. He also said the area leading to the centre must be made more accessible for patients coming in wheelchairs.

Commissioner D Randeep, who was also present at the inspection, suggested that the staff ensure buffer medicine stock. Hospital funds could be used to restock medicines and upgrade equipment required at the hospital.

Funds to improve deficiencies

In an internal meeting held with the commissioner and hospital's medical officers, the minister granted funds worth Rs 10 crore to improve the deficiencies noticed at the hospital. This included procurement of newer equipment, construction of a new mortuary, recruitment of necessary personnel, and even a new administrative room for better maintenance of hospital records.

No doctors, Lokayukta takes suo motu action against hospital

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

INITIATING suo motu proceedings based on allegations made in a media report that an outsourced 'D' Group employee of the general hospital at Pavagada in Tumakuru district treats patients who visit the hospital for their orthopaedic problems, Karnataka Lokayukta Justice BS Patil sought an explanation from health and family welfare department officials, besides ordering the Superintendent of Police to conduct an inquiry and submit a report.

The media report published on June 5 revealed there are 26 staff nurses and 30 Group 'D' employees working in the hospital. Though there are nurses, treatment is given by Group D employees. An orthopaedic doctor who has been deputed to the hospital, is allegedly unauthorisedly absent for the past six months. The staffer treats patients and even refers them to a bigger hospital.

Though the pathetic condition of the hospital was brought to the notice of the medical officer, no action was taken. There are no doctors to attend to patients' ailments, the Lokayukta stated in its order. Taking note of it, Justice Patil observed that the right to life is a fundamental right which includes the right to health, and it is the responsibility of the state to provide adequate medical facilities to citizens. Failure on the part of the hospital authorities is a serious lapse and attracts stringent action, he cautioned.

"...government hospitals are established with a view to providing effective and purposeful health care to the poorer sections of society, who cannot afford private hospitals. Any dereliction of duty on the part of officials would not only result in denial of the right to life but also amounts to maladministration...," the Lokayukta noted.

Impleading the principal secretary, commissioner, director of health and family welfare, district and taluk health officers of Tumakuru districttaluk, administrative medical officer and orthopedic medical officer Dr Nagaraj of General Hospital of Pavagada taluk as respondents, Lokayukta directed them to submit their explanation.

Senior BJP leader and former education minister BC Nagesh said the state government is working with a vengeance to make changes in school textbooks. If the government is making changes, then it should first put all details in the public domain and seek opinions from experts, he said. Former education ministers from the BJP on Thursday discussed the government's plans to make changes in the textbooks

Court takes note of defamation case against DKS, Siddu, Rahul

BJP cites Grand Old Party's advertising campaign on corruption to file complaint

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a major development, an Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Court in the city has taken cognisance of the offences against the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC), its president and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, based on a private complaint filed by BJP over advertisements published in mainstream newspapers on May 5, 2023, ahead of Karnataka Assembly elections, allegedly to defame the party.

Preeth J, XLII Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate of a special court designated to try cases against sitting and former MPs/MLAs in the state, took cognisance of the offence under Section 499 and 500 of IPC (defamation) on June 13 against all the four accused and posted the case for sworn statement of the complainant, BJP secretary Keshavaprasad, to July 27.

"After having heard the arguments of the counsel for the complainant and also on perusal of the averments made in the complainant and the documents produced, I am satisfied that the complainant has made out a prima facie case to take cognisance of the offences under Section 499 and 500 of IPC and to proceed further," the magistrate said.

It is alleged in the complaint that as a president of a political party, Shivakumar resorted to the most mean and cheap tactics by releasing the advertisement on May 5, 2023 to all mainstream newspapers by making reckless imputations regarding the complainant party. The accused 1 to 4, (KPCC, Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah and Rahul Gandhi) have all conspired and planned to defame BJP by levelling false allegations, the complaint stated. The accused have made baseless and irrational allegations against BJP under the title "Corruption Rate Card" based on fanciful imagination By giving advertisements, they hinted that BJP Sarkar has indulged in corruption and resorted to defaming the party, the BJP alleged in the complaint.

The BJP also alleged that the use of the word "trouble engine sarkar' mocking the popular "double engine sarkar" is meant to malign the name and reputation of BJP as a political party and to affect its chances in the elections. Rahul Gandhi, who has given instructions to issue such a bogus advertisement, has also put up the advertisement on his Twitter account, BJP alleged. It was further said that a legal notice was issued on May 6 calling upon the accused to withdraw all the allegations. Despite this, they did not comply with the demand made in the notice. Hence, it approached the court, BJP stated in the complaint.

WRONG PLACE, WRONG TIME?

Guv assures BJP of looking into Surjewala attending 'official meet'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FORMER minister and BJP MLA R Ashoka on Wednesday said Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot has assured the party of looking into its complaint against AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala allegedly attending an official meeting with state government officers.

Speaking to reporters after the BJP delegation met the Governor, Ashoka said the latter informed them that he would look into the details provided by them, and also seek more information from the state government.

"It is a really disturbing incident. Surjewala is in no way connected with the Government of Karnataka. His participation is not only illegal, but violates the constitutional mandate, apart from the violation of the Official Secrets Act," the BJP stated in its complaint. The Congress leader holding an official meeting was a clear violation of the guidelines, he alleged.

Ashoka said they are seeking action against Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar and other ministers as well, who attended the official meeting, with Surjewala. In its complaint, the BJP also named senior IAS officers, who attended the meeting.

He claimed that the Congress is trying to convert the BBMP into its party office, and questioned what is the need for elected representatives from Bengaluru, if Surjewala is called for a meeting to discuss BBMP elections, reservations, and grants to wards in the state capital.

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah used to say that they (Congress) will make Karnataka their ATM. They are now trying to convert Bengaluru into an ATM. They do not trust local leaders, hence central leaders have directly entered the field," Ashoka alleged.

Meanwhile, leaders of the Congress have maintained that it was not an official meeting.

Not an official meeting, says CM; DyCM claims it was no meeting at all

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AS the Opposition BJP and JDS continued their tirade against the State Government over AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala attending a meeting with Karnataka ministers and senior IAS officers, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said it was not an official meeting. Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, however, said there was no meeting at all.

"Deputy CM met the MLAs and participated in the meeting to seek legal opinion. Incidentally, they also spoke about the BBMP (Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike) elections in the meeting. Surjewala was waiting to visit the Hebbal flyover (in Bengaluru)," the CM explained while speaking to reporters in Bengaluru.

He said MLAs were called to discuss the BBMP elections and he (Surjewala) went there. "Officials were not there and it was not an official meeting," Siddaramaiah added. However, when the reporters mentioned the names of the officers present at the meeting, the CM parried the question about senior officials attending the meeting. Shivakumar, however, maintained that there was no meeting. Speaking to reporters in Pavagada in Tumakuru, the DyCM said the officers had come to invite him for Bengaluru city rounds when he was having coffee with Surjewala.

"(Housing Minister) Zameer Ahmed Khan had claimed that they had a meeting. He had stated it for his joy and I have not held any meeting," Shivakumar said referring to Zameer's tweet with a photograph.

In the tweet that was deleted later, the minister had stated Shivakumar had called the meeting at Shangri-La Hotel in Bengaluru to discuss various issues, and the meeting was attended by Surjewala.

Bommai-Shamanur meeting creates a buzz

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru, Davanagere

FORMER chief minister Basavaraj Bommai calling on veteran Congress leader Shamanur Shivashankarappa at a resort near Davanagere on Tuesday night created ripples in political circles.

Though Bommai claimed it was a courtesy call, the meeting is significant as BJP leaders have alleged that some of their leaders are hand in glove with Congress leaders. It is also significant ahead of BJP selecting its Leader of Opposition for the Assembly.

The two Veerashaiva Lingayat leaders held discussions for about half-an-hour and it is not known what transpired between them. "Shamanur Sivashankarappa is our elder and a distant relative. We have met at each others' houses several times. It is not appropriate to mix politics in this. When I went to the hotel for dinner on my way back to Bengaluru from Shiggaon, they were there to discuss their new relationship for their grandchildren. On that occasion, both of us talked for ten minutes, but no political issue was mentioned. Be it friendships or political ties, I have no question of compromising on my political stand," Bommai tweeted.

The meeting is also significant against the backdrop of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah planning to accept the caste-based socio-economic census report that might have an effect on the Lingayat community. Shivashankara ppa told the media that there is nothing to talk about adjustment politics, which is the allegation of some BJP leaders. "If the meeting was before the elections, one could have raised doubts. But we met after the polls and it is not appropriate to give any colour to it."

He said, "We both are relatives. Bommai garlanded me and I felicitated him with a shawl. Bommai is from BJP, while I am a staunch Congressman. What political discussions will we have?"

Siddu starts meets for big budget

BENGALURU: Chief Minister Siddaramaiah kickstarted a series of pre-budget meetings of various departments on Wednesday. Owing to the paucity of time, the CM could, however, hold meetings with just six departments -- agriculture, horticulture, sericulture, animal husbandry, fisheries, and cooperation -- whose officials made presentations. Siddaramaiah sought information on the existing schemes of the state government and those which overlap with the Centre's, so that money could be saved for the state exchequer. More importantly, generating revenue from different sources to continue the old schemes and also to implement the five guarantees were discussed, sources said. Besides its five guarantees, the government also vowed to fulfil the promises it made in its manifesto, but these are likely to be implemented in a phased manner. ENS

Registration for Gruha Jyothi begins this weekend

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Wednesday announced that registration for the Gruha Jyothi scheme will begin on June 18, 2023.

To avail of this scheme, beneficiaries must register on the Seva Sindhu portal under a special custom-made page: https://sevasindhugs.karnataka.gov.in/gruhajyothi being created for the scheme.

The government order said that citizens can use any device to upload their information, including laptops and mobile phones. Beneficiaries must use their Aadhaar cards and customer IDs as mentioned on the electricity bills for registration, which can also be done at Bangalore One, Gramma One, Karnataka One or any other centre.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah announced free power of up to 200 units to each household, and made it clear that tenants would be included among the Gruha Jyoti scheme's beneficiary list. According to Energy Minister K J George, there are 2.16 crore consumers whose average monthly power consumption is 53 units. George said the scheme will benefit around 2.14 crore consumers.

The scheme will come into effect from August 1, 2023, and beneficiaries will receive a 'zero bill' from August 1 for the month of July, if usage is within 200 units. Beneficiaries must register on the custom-made page on the Seva Sindhu portal, using their Aadhaar card and customer ID mentioned on the electricity bill. For further information, contact any electricity office or call the 24x7 helpline 1912.

Govt will withdraw 'guarantees' after LS polls, says Jigajinagi

VIJAYAPURA: While claiming that the Congress government will withdraw all its guarantees after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, former Union minister and BJP MP Ramesh Jigajinagi said that the Grand Old Party had launched the schemes keeping the general election in mind. Jigajinagi said that his statement is based on his own experience and belief that the government will not continue the same schemes after the LS polls. "The state government has now started putting many conditions for implementing these so-called free schemes. The government is imposing restrictions in extending the schemes to people. If the Congress really wishes to keep its promises, then it should not put any restrictions," Jigajinagi said.

Govt mustn't put riders for guarantees: Shamanur

DAVANAGERE: Advising the Congress government to keep its word on the five guarantees, party MLA from Davanagere South Dr Shamanur Shivashankarappa on Wednesday said the guarantees should not have any conditions. "The government should not give from one hand and snatch it from the other," he added. The recent increase in power tariff will affect industries. The government should implement its Griha Jyoti scheme, where up to 200 units of free power will be given to poor households, without increasing the power tariff, he advised. "Both BJP and Congress are saying they are not responsible for the power tariff hike. It may have been increased by BJP, but Congress should not accept it," he said. In an open challenge to sitting MP from the Davanagere Lok Sabha constituency GM Siddeshwara, he said, "Let Siddeshwara first get the ticket and contest from Davanagere. There are many candidates to take on him. If no one is ready, I will contest and defeat him. He is also a close relative of mine, but that should come in the way during elections."

Bigger hand at play behind Ravi, Sunil Kumar, Simha statements?

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

FORMER CM Basavaraj Bommai's defensive statement on Wednesday after meeting Congress leader Shamanur Shivashankarappa that "he is our 'elder' besides a distant relative and it is not appropriate to mix politics with it", does not come as a surprise, said sources close to former CM BS Yediyurappa.

The statement is to protect himself from the allegations of the BJP troika of CT Ravi, Sunil Kumar and Prathap Simha, who have claimed that some BJP leaders were in a secret alliance with Congress leaders to defeat BJP in the Assembly polls, they said. The reasons for the BJP loss are being discussed openly within the party. Why is this being raised four weeks after the polls, they asked.

Bommai clarified, "Friendships are different and political relations are different and there is no question of me compromising on my political stand." They said Bommai is the obvious choice for the leader of opposition post, but there has been no decision even a month after the polls. This indicates that BJP National General Secretary BL Santosh is looking for a scapegoat within the party on whom he could hang the shame of defeat, they said.

The statements of Karkala BJP leader Sunil Kumar that someone younger should be selected as opposition leader and General Secretary CT Ravi's utterances are at the behest of Santhosh, they said.

HDK raises E-way toll hike, but too late for political gains?

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE increase in toll for the Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway has invited a sharp reaction from JDS. Calling it injustice, party senior leader HD Kumaraswamy, in a series of tweets, said it is a daylight robbery, and added that it was our farmers who lost their homes when the highway was built.

He said the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) should immediately withdraw the increase in toll, and asked the state government to put pressure on NHAI.

"The toll should come down before people who are suffering from price rise get angry," he said.

But political observers said Kumaraswamy's statements have come too late as he missed the golden opportunity to take up the issue and agitate on behalf of farmers in Bengaluru Rural, Ramanagaram and Mandya when the highway was inaugurated. It was a common complaint by farmers that they did not benefit from the Rs 8,000 crore highway, they added.

At the same time BJP, which was looking at the highway as an opportunity to win people's hearts, too failed in spite of Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurating it under the media glare.

Around six to seven Lok Sabha constituencies benefit directly or indirectly from this highway. Political Analyst BS Murthy said, "BJP cannot expect the highway to yield any benefits for the party in the coming LS polls." In contrast, certain infrastructure projects of BJP were highly spoken about and earned the party tremendous goodwill in many areas, which was missing in the Assembly polls for BJP, he added.

CENTRE DEFENDS MOVE TO STOP FOODGRAIN SALE TO STATES

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Centre has defended the move to discontinue the sale of wheat and rice to the states, with the Department of Food and Public Distribution issuing a clarification in this regard.

"In order to ensure that the inflationary trends are kept under control while ensuring adequate stock levels in the Central pool, it has been decided to exclude state governments' scheme from the ambit of OMSS(D) this time," it stated.

As a part of the market intervention programme of the Centre, to control inflationary trends and to rein in rising prices of wheat and rice, it has been decided to undertake open market sale of the food grains through the Food Corporation of India. The first auction would be held on June 28, for FY2023-24. In this Open Market Sale Scheme, the quantity that a bidder can purchase in a single bid ranges from 10-100 MTs. Earlier, the maximum quantity allowed was 3,000 MT per bid for a buyer. The quantities have been reduced this time to accommodate more small buyers and to ensure a wider reach of the scheme that will facilitate the release of stocks sold under Open Market Sale Scheme to reach the public immediately, it elaborated.

Union govt's motive is to obstruct Anna Bhagya, says CM

HOWEVER, it will be continued for the northeast states, hilly states and states facing law and order situations and natural calamities at the existing rate of Rs 3,400 per quintal, it said. It has instructed FCI to sell 15 lakh MT of wheat and rice under the OMSS-D.

Siddaramaiah, who read out the letter, asserted that regardless of the conspiracy, 10kgs of rice per head will be distributed. There is no problem as 5kgs per head will be procured from neighbouring states, and Karnataka Food and Civil Supplies Minister K H Muniyappa will visit Telangana on Thursday to hold negotiations with Chief Minister Chandrashekar Rao.

"The Central government has proved itself anti-poor and anti-Kannadiga, as it has taken a political stance and taken away the state's share," Siddaramaiah said, at an emergency press conference called in connection with the Annabhagya Yojana at Shakti Bhavan.

He claimed that on June 9, a letter was written to the deputy general manager of FCI, seeking the requirement of 2.28 lakh MT to distribute 10kgs of rice to each Antyodaya and BPL card holders every month. On June 12, FCI agreed to supply rice through an agreement at Rs 3,400 per quintal. But soon, the Central government had taken a political decision.

FCI General Manager Harish had said that there is 7 lakh tonnes of rice stock, Siddaramaiah informed. "The motive behind this was to obstruct the Anna Bhagya programme from being implemented, as the Karnataka government will become popular," he alleged. Muniyappa has already spoken to the rice producing states of Punjab, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Haryana. He said that due to lack of storage facilities in Punjab, rice cannot be supplied, and that he would meet the Telangana chief minister on Thursday.

"Similarly, the information on rice available from the state of Chhattisgarh will be available and a clear picture will emerge by tomorrow evening," he said. Despite having sufficient stock of rice, the Centre is writing to FCI to not give it to the states on OMSS should be called anti-poor, he said. However he clarified that the state government will write to the centre again and appeal in this regard. Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister H K Patil was also present.

Tamil Nadu CM says DMK will face challenge legally, can't be cowed down by such acts

Stalin: Senthil's chest pain due to torture

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

DMK president and Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin on Wednesday strongly condemned the arrest of minister V Senthil Balaji by the Enforcement Directorate and said the party would face the challenge legally and it cannot be cowed down by such intimidating tactics.

BJP is not vindictive. The ED action was a culmination of a five-year probe into cash for jobs scam

TN BJP chief K Annamalai

"Looks like Balaji was subjected to severe mental and physical torture that he suffered chest pain," the CM said in a statement on Wednesday. "Even after the minster said he would cooperate, why should the ED torture him? Why did ED officials treat Senthil Balaji inhumanly violating all legal procedures? People are watching these repressive tactics and they will teach a befitting lesson in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections," the Chief Minister added.

The CM also said ED officials entered the state secretariat where government's secret files are maintained without permission and enacted a drama in the chamber of Senthil Balaji in the guise of inquiry. "They tried to show that ED searches could be carried out even in the state secretariat," Stalin said.

Several other Tamil Nadu ministers, too, visited the hospital which resembled a fortress with gun-toting CRPF and state police force personnel present in sizeable numbers.

TN WITHDRAWS GENERAL CONSENT FOR CBI PROBE

The DMK govt withdrew the general consent given to CBI in 1989 and 1992 for conducting inquiry in TN without getting prior permission of the state. A release said governments of West Bengal, Rajasthan, Kerala, Mizoram, Punjab, and Telangana have already issued such orders. As per Section 6 of Delhi Special Police Establishment Act, 1946, CBI should get prior nod of states for holding inquiries in those states

KEJRIWAL: CBI, ED SHOULD BE RENAMED 'BJP'S ARMY'

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal said, "CBI and ED should be renamed as 'BJP's Army'... We condemn the raid and arrest of the TN minister. The manner in which the arrest has been made is also very objectionable."

'Centre trying to break Oppn unity'

ENS @ Kalaburagi

AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge has condemned the ED for arresting TN Electricity Minister V Senthil Balaji in the wee hours of Wednesday. Addressing reporters here, Kharge sought to know whether Balaji would have escaped had the ED waited till Wednesday morning for his arrest.

"Why did the ED hurry in arresting Senthil Balaji? Perhaps, the Union Government wants to break the opposition unity by indirectly threatening the leaders of opposition parties through such arrests. We will not give in to such pressure tactics," he said.

Kharge also criticised the Centre for "mishandling" the Manipur crisis. "Had the government taken timely action, it could have prevented the large-scale violence. It is a clear case of negligence," he alleged. Kharge said that he has written to President Droupadi Murmu to speak with PM Modi and other Union ministers and direct them to provide compensation to the people affected by violence in Manipur.

Kharge said Congress is making all preparations for the Assembly polls in Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh and Meghalaya. "Congress will come to power on its own. The party will make Karnataka's "five guarantees" its poll plank in these states," he said.

Govt keen on expanding Pavagada solar park, needs 10,000 acres: DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Wednesday said that the State Government is keen on expanding the solar power plant in Tumakuru district's Pavagada and was looking for at least another 10,000 acres of land. He was speaking to media persons on the sidelines of his visit to Pavagada solar park. Energy Minister KJ George was also present.

Shivakumar said that if farmers are willing to give up their land, it will not just help them but also the State Government in increasing solar power generation.

The Deputy Chief Minister said that when it was inaugurated, the solar park in Pavagada was Asia's largest. "But it is not anymore... to make it Number 1 once again, it has to be expanded," he added.

On farmers suffering from health hazards owing to solar panels, Shivakumar said that it was a myth.

Earlier in the day, the two ministers conducted an aerial survey of the solar park and then visited the stations to take stock of power generation. On learning of transmission and distribution losses, George directed the officials to address the issue immediately.

George added that the solar park has already made significant contributions to the country's clean energy goals. It has the capacity to generate 4.5 billion units of solar energy per annum and thereby helps in abating carbon dioxide emissions to the tune of 3.6 million tonnes per annum.

The objective of the ministers' visit was to engage in discussions with project stakeholders, including the park's management team and engineers to gain insights into the innovative approaches employed in developing and operating the solar park.

The Pavagada solar park has been developed by Karnataka Solar Power Development Corporation Ltd in a joint venture with Karnataka Renewable Energy Development Ltd and Solar Energy Corporation of India Ltd.

ED arrests DC's Reddy, two others

ENS @ Hyderabad

THE Directorate of Enforcement, Hyderabad Zonal Unit, arrested former chairman and promoter of Deccan Chronicle Holdings Ltd T Venkatram Reddy, former director of the company PK Iyer, and auditor Mani Omen in the early hours of Wednesday. The three persons appeared before the ED on Tuesday in connection with the allegation that they had committed a fraud by raising a loan using fake documents and defaulting on repayment. The CBI registered almost six cases against Venkatram Reddy and the DCHL on charges of cheating banks. The trio were produced in ED special court at Nampally, which remanded them in judicial custody for 14 days. ED in October 2020, had attached properties worth Rs 8,000 crore belonging to Venkatram Reddy and the DCHL in Hyderabad, Delhi, Chennai, Bangalore, and Gurgaon.

Dinesh urges youngsters to donate blood

ENS @ Bengaluru

More youngsters must come forward to donate blood and create strategies to promote the same in colleges and universities, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said. He also urged people to donate organs along with blood donation. He was speaking at an event organised at the BMCRI, on Wednesday on World Blood Donor Day (June 14). One unit of blood can save four lives; though Karnataka has surplus stock with eight lakh plus units of blood donated every year, efforts should be taken to collect more blood, he added.

The government has approved to open four Regional Centres of Excellence in 2023 with enhanced service quality — Victoria Hospital in Bengaluru, Vijaynagar Institute of Medical Sciences in Ballari, Karnataka Institute of Medical Sciences in Hubballi and Wenlock Hospital in Mangaluru.

CYCLONE Biparjoy has dealt a blow to the coast of Uttara Kannada district where sea erosion has set in, leading to loss of land and property. With monsoon yet to gain pace, several coastal villages are already losing land at a rapid pace.

The villages around Majali, Devbagh, Harwada and Rabindranath Tagore beach in Karwar taluk, Mavinkurve, Pavinkurve in Kumta, parts of Honnavar and Bhatkal have been witnessing erosion. The fishermen are living in fear of losing their livelihood due to the unexpected rough seas.

At Harwada, water gushed into many houses. "The erosion has been happening for several years. All our houses are located along the beach. No fencing work has been taken up so far. We have submitted many petitions to the government, but they have all fallen on deaf ears. Every year, the sea is eating into the land. If the same continues, our houses will be gone," said Roshan, a fisherman at Majali.

Ishwar Majalikar, a fisherman from Tharangameti village in Ankola, says he has been hit hard. He lost his country boat, which was anchored on the beach, due to high velocity wind. The sea has taken away a huge patch of land at Tharangameti. At least 20 coconut trees have been uprooted and houses were flooded.

Mankal Vaidya, Minister of Fisheries and Ports, said the State Government is geared up to reach out to people in case the cyclone turns severe.

"We have begun our preparations. I have conducted a meeting with officials. The Health Department and the power sector have been put on high alert. We will address all issues of the fishermen," he assured.

The minister said he will visit Udupi and Dakshina Kannada districts and meet the fishermen and officials concerned.

Hyd woman stabbed to death in UK

ENS @ Hyderabad

KONTHAM TEJASWINI REDDY, a 27-year-old woman from Hyderabad who had gone to London to pursue her Master's degree, was stabbed to death in Wembley on Tuesday. Tejaswini had been studying at the University of Nottingham and was sharing an accommodation. She had completed her Masters recently and was planning to return home.

One of her flatmates, a Brazilian man who had recently moved in, stabbed her to death, her family was informed. A 28-year-old Indian woman living in the flat was also injured in the fatal attack but her injuries were not "life-threatening". The motive behind the crime was unknown. Two people — a 24-year-old man and a 23-year-old woman — had originally been arrested at the scene on suspicion of murder. The woman was later allowed to leave. Police also arrested a 23-year-old suspect in Harrow later on Tuesday. Detective Chief Inspector Linda Bradley, from the Met's Specialist Crime Command, was quoted in an official release as saying, "This has been a fast-moving investigation and I would like to thank the public for sharing our appeal for information about this man. He is now in custody. I recognise the significant concern this incident has caused in the community and I would like to reassure the public that a dedicated team of detectives are working to establish what happened. Local officers will remain in the area over the coming days to respond to any concerns."

NIA nabs PFI weapons trainer from Ballari dist

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Tuesday arrested a Popular Front of India (PFI) master weapons trainer - Nossam Mohamed Yunus alias Yunus - from Ballari district for his alleged involvement in the Nizamabad terror conspiracy case. He was living under an assumed identity, the NIA stated in a press release on Wednesday.

The case pertains to a criminal conspiracy hatched by the leaders and cadres of the now banned PFI to "recruit and radicalise youth and provide them with arms training to promote and carry out terrorist activities with the ultimate objective of establishing Islamic rule in India," stated the Central counter terrorist agency.

Yunus (33), from Nandyal in Andhra Pradesh, was working in the inverter business of his elder brother. He, along with his wife and two minor sons, were found absconding when his house was searched in September 2022. The NIA investigation has revealed that Yunus had shifted his entire family from Andhra Pradesh and was hiding in the Cowl Bazar area of Ballari district, where he was living as a plumber under a pseudonym - Basheer.

"Yunus was a master weapons trainer and was providing weapons training to the youth recruited by the PFI in AP and Telangana region. He was also the PE (physical education) training state coordinator for these two states in the Nizamabad PFI case," the NIA added.

According to the agency, Yunus gave evasive replies during interrogation and named one Shaikh Ilyas Ahmed as also being involved in the PFI weapons training programme. Ahmed is currently absconding.

With the arrest of Yunus, the NIA has further exposed PFI's nefarious plans to drive a communal wedge among the communities and to use innocent Muslim youth to disturb and disrupt peace and communal harmony in the country, stated the agency.

The case was initially registered by the Telangana police on July 4 last year. The NIA had taken over the case and re-registered it. The agency has so far filed two chargesheets against 16 accused persons in this case.

'DEFAULT OF PAYMENT'

TVS Credit to compensate owner for selling car without notice

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

A Chennai-based credit services firm was told to compensate the owner of a hypothecated car which was sold to a third party unilaterally, without prior intimation, after it was taken away from the middle of a road in Bengaluru for default of payment of two EMIs.

The Fourth Additional District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission directed TVS Credit Services Limited (TVS Credit) to pay compensation of Rs 35,000, including Rs 5,000 as litigation expenses, to the complainant, Boompalle Brahmananda Reddy, residing in Madiwala, for deficiency of service and unfair trade practice. It was also told to refund the value of the car as on the date of seizure, after deducting the balance loan amount to be paid by the complainant.

"Neither has TVS Credit issued the demand letter of balance loan amount nor have they issued sale intimation prior to the sale of the car, to the complainant. These technical and legal latches clearly attract deficient service on the part of TVS Credit, which has miserably failed to follow procedure in order to recover the balance loan amount in respect of the car loan," said the commission comprising president BS Ramachandra, members Chandrashekar S Noola and H Kumbhar. The complainant purchased a car taking a loan of Rs 5.45 lakh from TVS Credit in January 2019, and agreed to pay a monthly instalment of Rs 17,285 for a tenure of 42 months. He missed two EMIs for the months of October and November 2021. On December 7, 2021, unknown persons of TVS Credit forcibly took the car of the complainant from the middle of a road in Bengaluru.

Later, when he found that the vehicle was seized for default of payment of EMIs, he lodged a complaint with the police. Subsequently, when that did not yield any result, the complainant approached TVS Credit and requested that the car be handed over, and also agreed to pay the balance loan amount.

TVS Credit dodged the matter by giving one or other reason, finally, the complainant came to know that the car was sold to a third party. The complainant raised the objection that TVS Credit had not followed procedure in order to seize and sell the vehicle by not giving prior intimation or serving notice in advance.

The commission noted that TVS Credit, even though represented by the advocate, has not chosen to file its version in support of its defence, which shows it is negligent and careless towards the complainant's allegations.

We, Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., Bangalore, had at your request granted to you various Credit facilities by way of financial assistance on the terms and conditions contained in the agreement/s and document/s duly executed in favour of the Bank. The relevant particulars of the said credit facilities and the amount outstanding repayable by you are stated in Annexure-I.

As security for the said financial assistance you have created security interest in favour of Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., interalia, by way of Hypothecation of Movable Properties / Mortgage of immovable properties by executing necessary security Documents/s /agreement/s. The particulars of the secured assets are specifically mentioned in Annexure-II.

In terms of the agreement/s and document/s entered into by you all with Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd. you were required to repay the principal amounts of the financial assistance in accordance with repayment as contained in the said agreement/sand Document/s* and also to pay interest thereon at the rates and in the manner as stated in the said agreement/s and Document/s. The operation and conduct of the accounts in respect of the above said financial assistance/credit facilities have become irregular and your debt has since been classified by Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., as a Non Performing Asset on 31.12.2020, consequent to the default committed by you No.1 in repayment of principal debt and interest thereon.

Accordingly in exercise of the powers conferred in terms of Section 13(2) of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act 2002 (hereinafter referred to as 'the said Act') Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd. declares that the aggregate amount of Rs1,58,16,805.00./-(Rupees One crore Fifty Eight lakhs Sixteen thousand Eight hundred and Five Only) as on 12/06/2023 is immediately due and payable along with future interest.

In the premises we the Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., hereby call upon you all jointly & severally to pay to Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., within a period of 60 days from the date of receipt of this notice the aggregate sum of Rs1,58,16,805.00./-(Rupees One crore Fifty Eight lakhs Sixteen thousand Eight hundred and Five Only) as on 12/06/2023 together with further interest thereon with effect from 12/06/2023 at the contractual rates together with costs, charges, other monies until payment or realisation.

In case you fail to make the payment as aforesaid, Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., shall be constrained to take recourse in terms of the provisions of the said Act against all or any one or more of the secured assets, entirely at your risk as to costs and consequences thereof. The powers available to Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd. under the Act include (i) power to take possession of the secured assets of the borrower including the rights to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale for realizing secured asset (ii) take over the management of the secured asset including the rights to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale and realize the secured asset and any transfer of secured asset by Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd., shall vest in the all rights or in relation to the secured asset transferred as if the transfer has been made by you.

In terms of the provisions of section 13(13) of the said Act, you are here by prohibited from transferring, either by way of sale, lease or otherwise (other than in the ordinary course of your business), any of the secured assets as referred to in this notice without prior consent of Ashokanagar Co-op Bank Ltd.

The borrower's attention is invited to provisions of Section 13 (8) of the Act, in respect of time available, to redeem the secured assets.

This notice is issued in terms of Section 13(2) of the said Act.

The charges expenses incurred for taking the said action shall be met out of the sale proceeds and if the sale proceeds are found insufficient to satisfy the entire amount due to the Bank, for the balance amount, appropriate legal action as provided in Act will do taken against you, holding all of you jointly and severally liable to all costs and consequences thereof.

Please note that the above notice is issued without prejudice to such rights of the secured creditor to initiate any other legal proceedings/auction as deemed fit and necessary under the provisions of any other law for the time being in force.

AMID COWIN TANGLE, EXPEDITE DATA PROTECTION POLICY

Amid shocking allegations of piracy from the CoWin database that captured Covid vaccination information of an estimated 110 crore Indians, the government put out a vigorous defence of the platform's integrity. However, it claimed the leaked content appeared pre-populated on a rogue Telegram bot. In other words, it sought to change the timeline of data piracy to a different point in time while claiming CoWin was not directly breached. The platform's data-sharing protocol is OTP-protected, so bots cannot have direct access. But individuals and trusted third-party applications can gain access through the OTP gateway. However, one of its application programming interfaces shared restricted data using just a mobile number but interacted only with trusted partners, the Union government claimed.

The bottom line remained that data was on the loose on the darknet, and it happened within the present government's tenure at the Centre. No amount of spinning can take away that impression. CoWin captured individual information of beneficiaries like name, mobile number, Aadhaar, vaccination dates and centres. Only a transparent investigation can unravel the leak's modus, volume, source and time span. The government has since tasked its emergency response unit, CERT-In, to study and file a report. This is not the first data haemorrhage CERT-In is probing, nor will it be the last. Multiple claims of CoWin data breaches were made in the past, but there is no clarity yet on the outcome of the probes. Last year, the personal data of an estimated 40 million patients were stolen from the prestigious AIIMS, Delhi, in a ransomware attack. The hacked dataset included information from some of the toniest addresses in the land. The problem with CERT-In's reports is they are rarely released in full to the public.

Sharing valuable data to frame policies that take welfare initiatives to people's doorsteps without fund leakage is admirable, but it needs an impregnable security network. Had the draft data protection bill been enacted, it would have made it mandatory for the entity that slipped up to inform those whose data stood compromised individually. We are still far away from it. Sadly, a proposal to compensate the victims was pencilled out of the revised draft. The need of the hour is a functional data protection policy that provides legislative safeguards for personal information besides an updated cyber security policy. Repositories of public data should be tasked with raising their levels of accountability as the country enhances its digital footprint.

KERALA MUST FIGHT ITS MONSOON MALADIES

Monsoon is not just a change of season for Keralites — it is an integral and recurring part of their lives which evokes lots of nostalgic emotions. But it also comes with its own baggage, as this is the time of the year when the state sees a spike in vector-borne diseases. Though the monsoon has just started, as many as 15 dengue deaths have already been reported in the state. And the situation is likely to worsen as the rains intensify.

If one goes by the figures, the number of dengue cases in the state has doubled compared to last year. As per the data with the Integrated Disease Surveillance Programme (IDSP), around 2,500 dengue cases have been reported across the state so far. Hospitals have already started witnessing a steady rise in the number of fever cases. Health experts warn there can be a dengue wave similar to the 2017 outbreak when Kerala reported 21,993 confirmed cases and 165 deaths. Chikungunya and leptospirosis cases are also showing an upward trend. A plethora of reasons, from poor waste management and ineffective pre-monsoon cleaning to waterlogging, are cited for the growing mosquito population. Officials also point out that apartment complexes, households, construction sites, etc., are turning into mosquito breeding grounds.

While Kerala is a role model in public health management and other related health indices, its grip over infectious disease control leaves much to be desired. The story is somewhat similar during every monsoon season, and the state is seen grappling with the high number of cases. It requires coordinated efforts from various agencies to prevent communicable diseases. And that is exactly what is missing from the scene. Though the state government and local bodies did act in certain areas, a lot more still needs to be done. Now that the monsoon has already set in, there is no more time for large-scale cleaning up. It is time for the health department to act swiftly. It must set up specialised wards and ICUs in all medical colleges and district hospitals to tackle the spread of vector-borne diseases. The fact that Kerala has a very high morbidity rate complicates the situation as it can lead to a high mortality rate. So, there is no time to waste.

QUICK TAKE

JUSTICE NEEDS TIME

A Karnataka High Court's single judge bench one day this week heard 522 cases between 10.30 am and 5 pm, with an hour's lunch break. That's 330 minutes @ 1.6 minutes per case. Even if super-efficient, can he have effectively heard each case? The SC previously expressed the need for 50 judges for a million population, but there is a shortage. This challenge needs resolving, of growing work pressure as cases mount and judges' numbers remain static. Time management is of the essence. Else, the system chokes on adjournments, undertrials spending more time in jail, and litigants' waits prolonged, impacting the quality of justice rendered.

In Thailand, coalition negotiations between parties take place with a wary eye on the military

DECISIVE VOTE FOR CHANGE IN THAILAND

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Former Secretary in MEA and a former Ambassador to Thailand; founder Director of DeepStrat, a think tank and a Visiting Fellow at ORF, Delhi

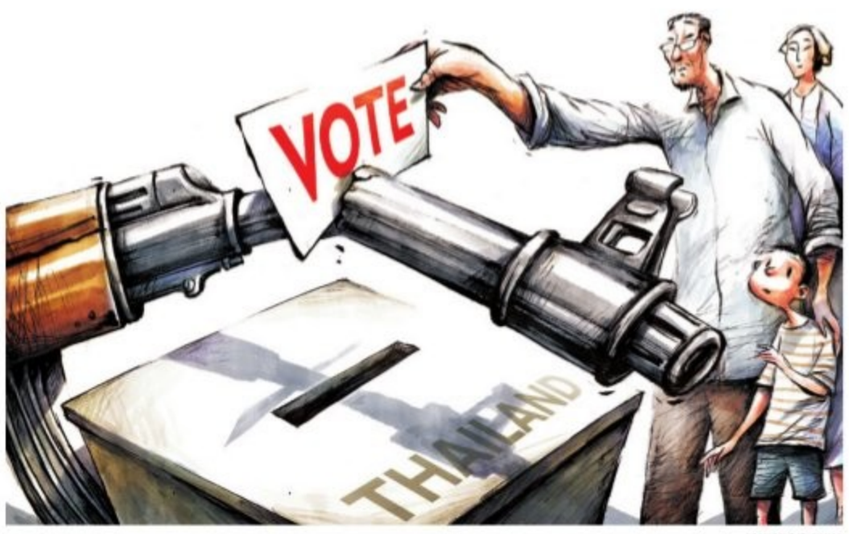
In last month's general election, Thailand threw up a decisive result rejecting the military-backed government led by Prayuth Chan-ocha, the incumbent PM and former army chief. Prayuth, as army chief, had ousted the caretaker government of PM Yingluck Shinawatra in 2014 in a military coup d'état. The opposition Move Forward Party (MFP), led by Pita Limjaroenrat and former PM Thaksin Shinawatra's Pheu Thai Party (PTP), now led by his daughter Paetongtang Shinawatra, routed the army-sponsored conservative opponents.

The MFP stunned the nation by winning the 152 seats, and the PTP came in second, bagging 141 seats in the lower house of Parliament. The Bhumjaithai Party came in third with 70 seats, The Palang Pracharath Party (PPP) won only 40 seats and Prayuth's United Thai National Party (UTNP) only 36. The Democrat Party, Thailand's oldest and once ruling party, slipped to 25 seats and looming irrelevance.

The two leading parties now face the challenge of forming a coalition government, with the older PHP having to play a junior role in the potential coalition. A 60-day interim period follows the election for the Election Commission to confirm the result and pave the way for the new government. Coalitions in Thailand, like in many countries, are messy affairs and prone to instability.

In Thailand, democracy has had a rough ride. Military coups have regularly overthrown civilian governments ever since it became a constitutional monarchy in 1932. On average, there has been a coup nearly every seven years. Gen Prayuth Chan-ocha's military coup in 2014 was the 21st in the last 75 years. Prayuth's 2014 coup removed the elected caretaker government of PM Yingluck Shinawatra, who herself had already been removed from office by a manipulated court order. The 2006 coup had overthrown the elected government of PM Thaksin Shinawatra, Yingluck's older brother. Both have chosen to live in exile to escape the military's persecution. Hence, the probability, howsoever slim, of the military subverting this election cannot be ruled out.

Over the years, military rulers have rewritten the Constitution to set up a parliamentary structure weighted in favour of the military and its allied parties. The 250 nominated Senators of the upper house are all government-appointed and supporters of the military. The 500-member lower house is elected. In 2019, the unelected upper house Senators voted to make Prayuth Chan-ocha the PM, though his PPP had won fewer seats in the lower house than the PHP. Since then, Prayuth formed a new party, the United Thai Nation Party (UTNP), in 2021 to fight the May 2023 election. The PPP, led by former army chief and Prayuth's deputy, Prawit Wongsuwon, refused to back Prayuth.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

The MFP is a centre-left social democratic party that supports removing the military's influence in Thailand's politics. Founded in 2014 as the Ruam Pattana Chart Thai Party, it changed its name to Phung Luang Party and after that to Move Forward Party (MFP) in 2020, after another of its incarnations, the Future Forward Party (FFP), was dissolved by controversial military-manipulated order by the Constitutional Court. The military saw the FFP as a political threat.

The charismatic youthful leader Pita Limjaroenrat leads the MFP and believes in rewriting the Constitution to make it more people-friendly. It hopes to abolish military conscription, reform the monarchy and amend Thailand's draconian lese majeste laws. The MFP has the overwhelming support of Thailand's young voters, who are tired of the military's interference and manipulation politics to retain power. The months-long student-led protest movement in 2020 focussed on these issues, and some MFP candidates led this reform movement. The MFP utilised social media in a major way to mobilise voters. Preceding the May 14 election was an unprecedented debate about the role of the military and the monarchy.

The new PM and government are likely to be announced next month. The MFP has announced a six-party alliance with the PTP and four other minor parties, with a tally of 310 seats — 66 short of the majority of 376 (500+250). The Senate, packed with military-nominated members, needs to support Pita, and he hopes to wean away the required numbers to reach 376.

Thailand's post-Covid economic recovery has been rather slow compared to other countries in the region, and the Prayuth government's inept handling of the Covid crisis angered ordinary Thais. Thailand's vaccination programme was slow to take off, and this alienated Prayuth's traditional supporters like the monarchists, doctors and conservative businesspersons. They sympathised with his political opponents, including the anti-government youth groups demanding change. The high voter turnout and the subsequent election results reflect widespread dissatisfaction with the Prayuth government.

One cannot underestimate the military's ability to subvert political processes by blocking the winning coalition from forming a government. In Thailand, coalition negotiations take place with a wary eye on the military, which can engineer a court ruling on a technicality to disqualify the MFP. They have done it before and can repeat it. Perhaps a full-fledged military coup is unlikely because the current army chief seems apolitical. Moreover, Pita, a 42-year-old Harvard and MIT-educated politician, is still regarded as a novice in coalition building. This does not take away anything from the fact that he has led his party to an extraordinary victory in a political climate vitiated by the military. An unknown element is the attitude of King Vajiralongkorn, his courtiers, conservative politicians and pro-monarchists. So far, the King has not shown much keenness in politics. If he indicates his support for a new government, Prayuth and his supporters will not cross the red line.

The monarchist-military alliance exercises institutional powers that could block the MFP from forming the next government if the King gives the nod. The military has a Brahmastra in its arsenal in the form of an unelected Senate under the military-drafted 2017 Constitution, which can veto appointments, even prime ministerial appointments, and legislation. The military has used this institution to cripple and unseat elected governments. But this time, the public mood is different, with young voters and the middle-class joining hands to demand change. Thailand is poised at a tipping point.

GOOD GOVERNANCE IS MORE THAN TECHNOLOGY

K JAYAKUMAR

Former Kerala chief secretary and ex-VC, Thunchath Ezhuthachan Malayalam University

It is an irony of modern history that even when governments and leaders covet more and more power, many of them zealously pursue neoliberal economic policies that essentially believe in the reduced role of governments. Globalisation, liberalisation and privatisation, which became the dominant economic sutras in the last decade of the 20th century, were premised on the inefficiency of the government and its machinery, and the implicit efficiency of the market. As Francis Fukuyama observes in Liberalism and its Discontents, faith in "the superior efficiency of markets evolved into something of a religion, in which state intervention was opposed as a matter of principle." After three decades of neoliberal policies, it is now being increasingly recognised that even for markets to function effectively and equitably, there have to be regulatory systems that ensure transparency and accountability.

This inalienable role of governments was brought into sharper focus during and after the pandemic. Even prior to the pandemic, the liberal economic policies and globalisation had become suspect. While the developments promised by the liberal economic reforms remained elusive, they distorted the socio-economic situation and created conspicuous inequalities. Corporate oligarchies have begun to dictate policies to governments. However, the pandemic has shaken this cosy cohabitation and reinforced the crucial role of governments. In the post-pandemic period of economic recovery, governments in Europe and Asia as well as in the United States have been increasingly sensitive to the deprivation of their people, and have formulated social and economic policies aimed at correcting distortions.

Sadly, in India, no such egalitarian eagerness is visible at the national level. On the other hand, there is a debate at this level on "the freebie culture vs fiscal prudence". The pandemic has demonstrated that what citizens expect in times of crisis is not a government that stands aloof but an administration that is visible, benevolent and responsive. Post-pandemic, the twin dimensions of growth and welfare have gained importance. In the backdrop of high inflation, job losses, agrarian crises, widening inequalities, high hunger index, and increasing social tensions, the utterances of some of our leaders ridiculing revdi culture and invoking stringent lessons of fiscal prudence become outdated.

Over and above the post-pandemic stagnation and allied complexities, the power of emerging technologies that have opened up new opportunities and threats have further defined the role of the government.

The new digital technologies do not, by definition, respect national boundaries, though major players toe government regulations purely out of business interests. Bureaucracy finds itself in a strange land of possibilities and constraints. On the one hand, social expectations for better service delivery are on the rise even as powerful technologies offer unprecedented opportunities to serve better.

More than any period in human history, this century has gifted us technologies with unprecedented intelligence and unbelievable speed. Governments today have a need and an opportunity to re-engineer systems and processes to discover a new pace and poise of administration and law enforcement. It is now possible to provide relief and services to citizens based on objective parameters and with utmost transparency and efficiency. Even as our leaders wallow in self-laudatory pronouncements about the country's shining achievements, and showcase the benefits of e-governance, the fact remains that corruption is all-pervasive and the rights of the citizens are still a matter of condescension.

> The power of emerging technologies that have opened up new opportunities and threats have further defined the role of the government

The erroneous presumption that greater application of technology is per se better governance is doing enormous damage to bureaucracy. Technological application for the convenience of government departments is not a bad idea, but to infer that it has always improved the life of the citizen is far-fetched, if not perverse.

If the new technologies including Artificial Intelligence and social media have to be optimally utilised for achieving citizen-centric governance reforms, firstly there has to be an unequivocal commitment and clarity at the national level — cutting across party differences — that a people-first approach is the primary principle of governance. Unfortunately, the default setting of today's governance appears to be still controlled by the need to gradually withdraw from several sectors, and socially divisive politics that makes secularism almost an offence.

Secondly, technology alone has only limited utility in an atmosphere of non-negotiable rigidity. The enormous potential of the existing and emerging technologies cannot be harnessed in an administrative ecosystem where procedures, presumptions, practices, precedents, and precautions of a different century are still held as sacrosanct and their violations are used to selectively target erring officers. The corrupt in the administrative set-up imaginatively misuse these controls to their selfish advantage.

While a truly IT-enabled administration would ideally invalidate the need for human interface and subjective interpretation, we still ritualistically use technology without recognising the need for doing things at the click of a mouse. Admittedly there have been areas where dealings with the government have become faster and objective, but the manuals and regulatory labyrinths continue as built-in neutralisers. For instance, delegation of decision making and financial powers to personnel at various bureaucratic levels is even today unthinkable in the government where delegation is like a miser's gift. Drastic delegation has already been practiced in private and commercial sectors, thereby rendering greater customer satisfaction. The financial powers that a branch manager of a bank enjoys will be mind-boggling to the government. Gloating about the gains of e-governance — without any radical resetting of mindset, repudiation of ancient practices and emancipation from archaic thought patterns — is an insult to technology and citizens. Especially when citizens look towards governments for more.

Live-in divorce

Where is the significance of a divorce in a live-in concept which itself defies the spirit and sanctity of a marriage? There is no legal bond in the live-in relationship (Live-in partners can't claim to be married and seek divorce: HC - June 14). As the togetherness was never conjugal, the question of a divorce also does not arise. The Kerala High Court's order is absolutely fair.

TCS attrition

This is with reference to TCS sees higher attrition among women as work-from-home ends (June 14). Given the extra responsibilities working women bear, apart from contributions they make i) towards the organisation they work for, and ii) earnings of the family, women certainly deserve more flexibility in jobs. This will increase employment opportunities for them.

Water contamination

The death of 14 lakh people in 2019 in India (Water contamination: End the killing spree - June 14) due to the water contamination is unimaginable. The government or private bodies are not solely responsible for the tragedy. When the drinking water is contaminated, the affected person has to face complications. So everyone should have awareness regarding drinking water.

Cyclone Biparjoy delays progress of monsoon

Rain likely to cover more parts of peninsular India and East India between June 18 and June 25, predict weathermen

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

CYCLONE Biparjoy, which is expected to hit the Gujarat coast on June 15 evening, has adversely impacted the monsoon which has slowed.

"Monsoon will start progressing after June 18 over south Indian states like Karnataka, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Odisha," said Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, director Ggeneral of meteorology, Indian Meteorological Department (IMD).

Once the cyclone ends, the monsoon will cover more parts of peninsular India and East India between June 18 and June 25, said another IMD scientist.

The IMD has warned that the cyclone is likely to destroy thatched houses, damage pucca houses and overhead power transmission lines, uproot big trees and inundate low-lying areas. It will cause a heavy rainfall and tidal waves of up to 2-3 metres. The cyclone will further cause heavy rains in Rajasthan, Haryana, Delhi and Uttar Pradesh.

Since its inception, Cyclone Biparjoy has been moving towards the north and changed paths several times. Finally, it turned towards the northeast to Gujarat coast.

"Most of the Arabian Sea cyclones move towards northwest, especially Oman," said Mahesh Palawat of Skymet, a private company that provides weather solutions. "This cyclone too changed its path several times and now the speed has reduced from 180 kmph to 130 kmph as it took a turn towards northeast Guajarat," Palawat added.

Cyclone Biparjoy is the third cyclone in the month of June that is directly hitting Gujarat since 1965. Earlier, two cyclones had crossed the Gujarat coast — a severe cyclone in 1996 and another extremely severe cyclonic storm in 1998.

Scientists observed that Biparjoy has become the longest-lived cyclone in the Arabian Sea. "Biparjoy is now the longest-lived cyclone (192 hours as cyclone strength) in the Arabian Sea history breaking record of the June 1998 cyclone," said Vineet Kumar, a scientist based in South Korea, who works on ocean-cyclone activity globally.

The IMD has forecast that heatwave conditions will prevail over East India, Northwest India and Central India for next five days. The maximum temperatures are likely to fall by 5-6°C over most part of the country except in Gujarat and by 2-4°C over Northwest India.

North-East India will likely have very heavy rainfall while there will be no major weather changes over the rest of the country in the next five days.

Cause and effect

- Rain will cover more parts of peninsular India and East India betweenJune 18&25
- Cyclone Biparjoy's windspeed has reduced from 180 kmph to 130 kmph
- Biparjoy is the third cyclone in June that is directly hitting Gujarat since 1965
- 2 cyclones had crossed Gujarat coast before — a severe cyclone in 1996 and an extremely severe cyclonic storm in 1998
- Cyclone Biparjoy is the longest-lived cyclone in the Arabian Sea

90-metre-tall radio tower dismantled in Dwarka

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

AS THE cyclonic storm 'Biparjoy' is expected to hit the coastline along Gujarat on Thursday, the authorities have dismantled a radio relay tower propped by a 90-metre-tall guy rope in Dwarka.

According to the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (I&B), the decision to pull down the radio tower, which is used to receive and retransmit radio signals, was taken down to prevent any untoward incident and loss to human life and properties in the vicinity during the cyclone.

The tower was about 35 years old. The I&B ministry on Wednesday stated that a safety audit conducted in January had recommended dismantling of the tower.

"A 90-metre-high guy rope-supported steel Akashvani tower in Dwarka, Gujarat, has been dismantled as a precautionary measure in view of the impending Cyclone Biparjoy. This has been done to prevent any mishap and minimising of damages to life and property in surrounding areas. The move follows a safety audit of this 35-year-old tower by the structural experts from National Institute of Technology, Surat, and Civil Construction Wing of Prasar Bharati, which recommended the dismantling of this tower in January 2023," said an official from the I&B ministry.

He added that Akashvani is working on restoration of services from Dwarka by using the available resources simultaneously.

Strong winds with a speed of 125-135 kmph and gusting to 150 kmph are expected to hit Dwarka, Kutch, Porbandar, Jamnagar, Rajkot, Junagarh and Morbi districts of Gujarat on Thursday as Biparjoy makes landfall near the Jakhau port.

Zelenskyy aide dials Doval, seeks help in peace deal

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE Ukrainian president's chief of staff, Andrii Yermak, on Wednesday held a telephonic conversation with NSA Ajit Doval and briefed him on the current situation in his country in view of the continuing Russian offensive and sought India's support for the Ukrainian peace formula.

The two talked about the implementation of the agreements reached by President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and Prime Minister Narendra Modi during the G7 Summit held in Hiroshima, Japan last month.

Yermak discussed with Doval the preparations for a 'Global Peace Summit' besides pitching for consolidation of global support for the Ukrainian peace plan and the possibility of India joining the implementation of its individual points. "In this context, the parties discussed preparations for the Global Peace Summit. Andrii Yermak emphasised the need to involve the widest possible range of countries, including the Global South, in this event," a statement said.

"Recent events have once again proved that the Ukrainian Peace Formula is more relevant than ever for Ukraine and the world. We are actively working with partners to prepare the Global Summit on the implementation of the formula. We expect India to take part in it," Andrii noted. He also briefed Doval on the current situation on the Russia-Ukraine frontlines.

He said the blowing up of the Kakhovka hydroelectric power plant is a deliberate terrorist act and another war crime by Russia. This is one of the largest modern crimes of genocide. "The aggressor has caused an unprecedented man-made, environmental and humanitarian disaster, as well as creating a threat of a nuclear accident at the largest nuclear power plant in Europe, Zaporizhzhia NPP," Andrii said.

India, Bangladesh strengthen ties, ink pact on 5 key border projects

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN A step towards improving the ground conditions along the India-Bangladesh border, the chiefs of the border security forces of the two countries agreed on Wednesday to initiate five projects.

Terming the decision "momentous", the Border Security Force (BSF) in a statement said the projects "will have a profound positive impact on the lives of the population along the Indo-Bangladesh border".

The projects, said sources, includes construction of a bailey bridge over river Sonai in Mohanpur which is in the area of a BSF battalion, while Bangladesh wanted to complete Ramgarh School building. The other project is to construct a brick road near Ragna Nagar Land Customs Station which is in Dharmanagar in Tripura.

The Border Guards Bangladesh (BGB) got a go ahead with the work for electricity supply network expansion works near Jhalongi and Vitorbari pockets, but without changing the course of the river and sluice gate, said BSF sources.

Further, the two countries gave a go ahead for construction of a retaining wall along rivers Bugai and Mymensingh on both sides of the border, the sources said.

Maj Gen A K M Nazmul Hasan, DG, Border Guard Bangladesh (DG BGB) led the Bangladesh delegation to India to attend the 53rd Border Co-ordination Conference between the BSF and BGB held at BSF Chhawla Camp in Delhi from June 11 to 14.

The Indian delegation was led by Sujoy Lal Thaosen, DG, BSF. "This decision is a significant step towards improving the overall quality of life and will serve to foster stronger bilateral trade and ties between the two nations," the BSF said.

DG BSF appreciated the cooperation of BGB which paved the way for expediting the construction of Single Row Fence and essential elements along the Indo-Bangladesh border.

DG BGB assured full cooperation and mentioned that concerned battalions have been instructed to conduct joint verifications for the proposed single row fence works.

Both sides also agreed for a meeting of nodal officers in a month for sorting out matters related to developmental and infrastructure works.

Govt plans to create database of tribals' health

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Central government has now decided to create a database of health profiles of tribals from across the country, in a bid to provide them holistic medical facilities and eliminate sickle cell anaemia by 2047.

This would be the first time a government database will be created on the health profiles of tribal people living in nondescript forest and hilly areas in various states, including the Andaman & Nicobar Islands.

"The Ministry of Tribal Affairs has started working on creating a mega database of over 7 crore tribal people living in different remote forest areas in the country, in order to provide them hassle-free holistic health care facilities," Union tribal affairs minister Arjun Munda told the reporters here on Tuesday.

The tribal affairs minister further said that the database will have the health profiles of over 7 crore tribal people, which would be linked to all major hospitals across the country and can be accessed online during their treatments from anywhere in India.

"The process of preparing health profiles of the tribal people has already been set into motion. This database will be linked with almost all prominent hospitals in the country. Prime Minister Narendra Modi will soon make an announcement about the database soon," the minister said.

According to Munda, as a part of the mission to eliminate sickle cell anaemia by 2047, the database will also have health profiles of the tribals diagnosed with this disease.

Apart from this, the Central government, in another first-of-its-kind move, has also decided to prepare the Human Development Index of tribal people, especially of Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTGs).

"The human index will help us to accelerate comprehensive development plans for the tribal people, whose population numbers around 10.50 crore, and belongs to over 700 communities," Munda said.

Upon being asked, the minister said that the human index plan of Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups and other tribal communities would be in a digital portal format. Quoting figures, he said that an estimated population 28 lakh PVTGs lives in the country, spread across many states including Odisha, Gujarat and Jharkhand.

He further said that the Central government has requested all the states to set up Special Monitoring Cells for tribal affairs and constitute special teams of officials to supervise the schemes related to tribal developments.

He said that a huge fund of ₹15,000 crore has been sanctioned by the Central government towards projects to uplift the lives of primitive people, adopting a holistic approach for their development.

"Out of the 1.25 lakh tribal-dominated villages in the country, around 36,000 villages of tribal population have been selected to be developed as 'Aadi Adarsh Gram'. And the action plan for about 1,500 tribal villages to develop them as 'Aadi Adarsh Gram' villages have already been prepared," the minister claimed.

"Under the Pradhan Mantri Janajatiya Vikas Mission, there is a plan to set up 3,000 Haat Bazaars and 600 warehouses at an estimated budget of ₹1,613 crore for five years," the tribal affairs minister said.

Law panel sets the UCC ball rolling for fresh look

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE 22nd Law Commission of India on Wednesday set the ball rolling for a fresh look at the demand for a Uniform Civil Code (UCC) by asking all stakeholders, including the public and religious organisations, to send in their views.

It gave them 30 days to share their opinions. "The concerned stakeholders are also at liberty to make their submissions in the form of consultation/ discussion/ working papers on any of the issues pertaining to the Uniform Civil Code," its public notice stated.

The 21st Law Commission of India was the first to initiate delebrations on the UCC by seeking the views of all stakeholders through an appeal along with a questionnaire on October 7, 2016. A couple of years later, it issued three more public appeals/notices to attract more responses.

After examining the inputs, the panel issued the consultation paper, 'Reforms of Family Law', on August 31, 2018.

"Since more than three years have been lapsed from the date of issuance of the said consultation paper, bearing in mind the relevance and importance of the subject and also the various court orders on the subject, the 22nd Law Commission of India considered it expedient to deliberate afresh over the subject," the notice said.

UCC is an article of faith for the BJP. Several BJP-ruled states have already set up panels to formulate it. For example, retired Supreme Court judge Ranjana Prakash Desai heads the panel in Uttarakhand. Talking to the media on Wednesday, she said the UCC being drafted by her committee will strengthen the social fabric, promote gender equality and help fight economic, social and religious inequalities. "We are trying to make a draft which is liked by people of every religion," Desai said at an event to seek suggestions on the UCC from Uttarakhandis who live in the Delhi.

MEDS FROM THE SKY: DRONES TO SAVE LIVES IN NE

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AROUND 20,000 medicine units were delivered by drones in some of the inaccessible districts of Nagaland and Manipur as a part of a study conducted by the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR).

The ICMR study found that the medical supplies through unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs) or drones were a possibility in the remotest region of the country and that people were receptive to this new idea and perceived bottlenecks of regulations and restrictions in the sensitive zones had little impact. Three districts in Manipur - Bishnupur, Imphal West and Churachandpur - and two from Nagaland — Mokokchung and Tuensang — were selected to be the area of drone operation for the study.

"Drone-based deliveries of medical supplies are proving to be time efficient; however, overcoming operational challenges could provide an effective long-term deployment strategy," said the study published in Frontiers in Public Health.

"The present study was a unique and pioneering initiative in South Asia which delivered about 20,000 units of medical supplies to various hard-to-reach terrains in North East India," it added. The medical supplies included vaccines, tablets, syringes, glass bottles, PPE kits and gloves requiring different payloads.

Several types of drones were used, including lightweight multi-rotor quadcopters and hexacopter, single-rotor helicopters, and fixed-wing vertical take-off and landing UAVs for long distances between 60km to 120km. The fixed-wing drones were more stable in flying and had more endurance both in hills and plains.

The study said such operations required highly skilled and trained drone pilots to plot waypoints critically, prepare flight plans, maintain the aircraft, and monitor take-off and landing. Drones are "emerging technologies" with the potential to leapfrog the last mile logistics solution for transporting medical supplies thus, strengthening the healthcare system, stated the study.

"Several issues were encountered during the project, including regulatory approval, technical difficulties, secure landing sites, logistic and terrain-related issues, lack of trained operators, unpredictable weather conditions, communication with locals, telemetry, and the cost of flight," Dr Sumit Aggarwal, scientist, ICMR, and lead author of the study told this newspaper.

Other challenges included transporting drone batteries to the spot, non-availability of take-off, and poor road transportation network in the region were faced by the team of experts. The study said that the new drone policy introduced in 2021 provided flexibility in conducting operations less than 400 feet above ground level in green zones (above 12 km from the airport perimeter) and yellow zone (above 5 km from the airport perimeter).

"Drones can be a useful tool for delivering medical supplies, vaccines, and other relief materials in difficult terrains. It also shows that drone technology has the potential to improve healthcare access in hard-to-reach areas," said Aggarwal.

Shinde in Maha damage control mode

CM publishes second advertisement, but fails to sort out differences with BJP in the state

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A day after snubbing his deputy Devendra Fadnavis over popular CM choice, Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde on Wednesday in a damage control step published a second advertisement putting photographs of all prominent leaders. The commercial also dropped the objectionable contents that were published in earlier advertisements.

There is, however, no sign of end to brewing tussle between the BJP and the Shiv Sena (Shinde) as BJP Rajya Sabha MP Anil Bonde called Eknath Shinde as a "frog that is limited to Thane district only".

Sources said that Shinde-led Shiv Sena ministers in cabinet meetings expressed displeasure over BJP's pressure tactics to remove their six cabinet ministers and leaking this information to the media.

"However, BJP refused saying that they did not leak the information. There was a word of war, but both the party leaders decided not to make any provocative statements that will add fuel to the fire and spoil the atmosphere and bring out the differences in cadre as well. We have to restrain from making any such comments in the media," said a senior minister of Shiv Sena requesting anonymity.

The advertisement carried in newspapers on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Maharashtra BJP president Chandrashekhar Bawankule said that they were upset with the chief minister Eknath Shinde for mischievous advertisement insulting

Devendra Fadnavis by showing it in poor light with the help of survey reports. "CM Eknath Shinde has a big heart and he should take both the party along and do the work. I will meet him and try to iron out the differences between both the party leaders. We are happy that Shiv Sena issued the second advertisement correcting the error of earlier advertisements," Bawankule said.

Senior BJP leader said that Shinde by issuance of this advertisement has asserted his positions as chief minister of Maharashtra and leader of Shiv Sena.

"Shinde should not consider Thane as a whole Maharashtra. Earlier Uddhav Thackeray made the same mistake. Thackeray thought that Mumbai is Maharashtra. Someone must be misguiding Eknath Shinde. We also want to know whether this survey where Shinde is more popular than Fadnavis is carried out in Thane only? Devendra Fadnavis is working for all communities," said Bonde.

The tussle between BJP and Shiv Sena came out after the Shiv Sena's issuance of advertisements which on the basis of survey said Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde is more popular than the deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis. The survey stated that 26 per cent people prefer Eknath Shinde as chief minister of Maharashtra while 23 per cent prefer Fadnavis.

Interestingly, in this snubbing of Devendra Fadnavis advertisements, no photograph of Fadnavis was used. As a result of this tussle, Fadnavis cancelled his out tour with the CM, citing ill health as a reason.

The second advertisement on Wednesday wherein the same survey combined data published stating 49 per cent people want the Shinde-Fadnavis government back in Maharashtra. It also published the photographs of late Balasaheb Thackeray, Anand Dighe, Amit Shah, Devendra Fadnavis along with nine cabinet ministers of Eknath Shinde. Sanjay Raut (UBT) Rajya Sabha member said that Devendra Fadnavis has been badly humiliated through the Shinde faction's advertisements.

'Shinde-led Sena upset with BJP's tactics'

There is, however, no sign of end to brewing tussle between the BJP and the Shiv Sena (Shinde) as BJP Rajya Sabha MP Anil Bonde called Eknath Shinde as a "frog that is limited to Thane district only". Sources said that Shinde-led Shiv Sena ministers in cabinet meetings expressed displeasure over BJP's pressure tactics to remove their six cabinet ministers and leaking this information to the media.

2 IAS, IPS officers in Raj suspended for beating hotel staff

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Rajasthan government has suspended 7 officials including an IAS and IPS officer for allegedly getting into a brawl at a hotel in Ajmer district on Monday. Though the officials denied that they misbehaved or manhandled the hotel staff, the government took quick action once the CCTV footage of the incident was recovered.

In their complaint, the hotel staff alleged that the officials were drunk and beat them with sticks and the video footage which was captured by CCTV cameras soon went viral on Social Media. The officials had reached the hotel past midnight and wanted to force the hotel staff to serve them food.

IPS Sushil Kumar Vishnoi and Ajmer Development Authority Commissioner IAS Girdhar are the two senior officials who have been suspended for allegedly having a liquor party in a car and assaulting hotel staff. Along with these, 5 other government employees have also been suspended for the incident which occurred at Hotel Makrana Raj located on the Ajmer Highway. Most of the officials are policemen, including an IPS officer and his friends, who have been accused of beating the restaurant staff with sticks.

A complaint was given by the hotel owner in the matter. It is being told that the policemen and the three officers were intoxicated during the uproar in the restaurant. The brawl happened at around 2 o'clock on the night of June 11.

After the CCTV footage of this case surfaced, the government suspended all the officials. IAS Girdhar was the commissioner of Ajmer Development Authority. There was talk of his involvement in this case too. ASI Ruparam of Gegal police station, constable Gautam, Mukesh Yadav, constable Mukesh Jat of Tonk and junior assistant Hanuman Prasad have been suspended.

Uma writes to CM on Avantibai development

Former CM and senior BJP leader Uma Bharti has written to CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan, demanding development of Avantibai Lok in Shahpur area of tribal dominated Dindori district, which is the place of martyrdom of 1857 war of freedom's warrior Lodhi Rajput queen Avantibai. She has also written to the CM for creation of Lodhi Samaj Welfare Board. Bharti, herself hails from the powerful OBC Lodhi community, which has a strong presence in parts of Bundelkhand, central MP and tribal dominated Mahakoshal. Recently, Chouhan has announced constituting welfare boards for different caste groups.

Ex-CM Kamal Nath's loyalist sparks row

Kamal Nath loyalist Congress MLA and former MP minister Sajjan Singh Verma's detest for some prominent Hindu religious preachers has been heating up. The ex-minister recently courted controversy with his statements about Hindu religious preachers, Dhirendra Krishna Shastri and Pradip Mishra. Speaking at a Bhagwat Katha event in his assembly constituency Sonkatch, the scheduled caste politician said that the two religious preachers had opened big shops of religion. Religious preacher of the Bhagwat Katha event in Sonkatch said that he would never return to Sonkatch.

Jyotiraditya's remark ruffles Cong feathers

Union minister and BJP leader Jyotiraditya Scindia's 'videshi panchi' remark at a public gathering on home turf Gwalior-Chambal region recently has miffed his old party, the Congress. While addressing the gathering, Scindia had said, "Poll is close, now many videshi panchis (foreign birds) will flap their wings, but don't be misled by them." While claiming that the videshi panchis remark was aimed at former Congress president Sonia Gandhi, ex-MP minister and senior Congress MLA Sajjan Singh Verma questioned, "Disrespecting the mother (Sonia Gandhi) in whose lap you've played in childhood, is this what Sanatan Dharma has taught you (Scindia)?"

Relief to AAP minister as complainant makes U-turn

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A political storm has erupted in the state after the Special Investigation Team (SIT) of Punjab Police in it's report to the National Commission for Scheduled Castes (NCSC) stated that the complainant appeared before the SIT and stated that he was withdrawing the complaint of sexual exploitation case against Punjab Cabinet Minister Lal Chand Kataruchak.

He also claimed that a purported video of the exploitation that had surfaced was 'doctored'. This comes as a relief for the AAP-led Punjab government, as state governor Banwarilal Purohit had asked the government to take action against the minister.

The complainant had appeared before the SIT last week and his statement was videographed. He told the SIT that he lost his mobile phone and later someone showed him a doctored video of him and the minister. Earlier, the complainant had accused the minister of exploiting him for years, forcing him into a relationship on the pretext of giving him a job.

Violence continues for 5th straight day ahead of panchayat polls in Bengal

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

CRUDE bombs continued exploding on roads in rural Bengal for the fifth consecutive day on Wednesday over the issue of filing nomination for the upcoming panchayat elections. Bombs were hurled in front of the local office of the block development officer in Canning, South 24-Parganas, to allegedly scare candidates of opposition parties who are aspiring to contest in the rural polls slated to be held on July 8.

Similar incident took place in Bhangar in the same district on Tuesday forcing policemen to retreat. Five years ago, the panchayat elections in Bengal were marked by large-scale violence, with one-third of candidates unable to file their nominations and several court interventions, Bengal has got off to another rocky start.

Supporters of the Indian Secular Force (ISF), the party formed ahead of the 2021 Assembly elections and its lone MLA Naushad Siddiqui was elected from Bhangar, and ruling Trinamool Congress clashed in the minority dominated pocket. Several vehicles were vandalised and a huge contingent of police personnel rushed to the spot and resorted to lathicharge to bring the situation under control.

Siddiqui went to Nbanna, the state secretariat, to meet CM Mamata Banerjee but could not as she was busy. The ISF MLA lodged his complaint accusing the TMC of flexing muscles with the police.

The BJP, principal opposition, arrived at the state election commission's office on Wednesday, alleging TMC's muscle flexing restricting their candidates from filing nominations. "The state poll panel is working at the behest of the ruling party. The panchayat polls is conducted to hoodwink people," said BJP's state president Sukanta Majumdar.

Chouhan decides to give e-scooters to Class XII toppers in poll-bound MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE Madhya Pradesh government on Wednesday gave its nod to provide e-scooters to boys and girls who top the Class 12 exam at government schools. The decision by the Shivraj Singh Chouhan-led BJP government comes ahead of the Assembly polls scheduled later this year.

The state cabinet, under the new scheme, has decided to provide e-scooters to boys and girls who top the Class 12 to encourage them in studies. If more than one student has the highest marks then all of them will get the benefit of the scheme, said State Home Minister Narottam Mishra, also government's official spokesperson.

A petrol-run scooter will be provided in areas where e-scooter is not available. Around 9,000 students will benefit from the scheme. A provision of ₹135 crore has been made in the budget for the year 2023-24 for the implementation of the scheme, he added.

The decision by the state cabinet came a few days after the chief minister transferred the first monthly installment of Rs 1000 each into the bank accounts of 1.25 crore financially weak married women under the Laadli Behana Scheme, announced incentives for Anganwadi workers and hiked the annual financial support to farmers by ₹2,000 under the CM Kisan Kalyan Scheme.

Taking a dig at the CM and his government on this latest development, state Congress president Kamal Nath said, "Just wait, after announcing to provide e-scooters to topper students, the CM can also announce providing helicopters."

On Wednesday, the state cabinet also approved the 'Cooperative Policy of MP, 2023' and authorised the cooperative department to prepare and implement time-bound action plan. The policy aims to pave the way towards making cooperatives a people's movement in the state. Committees will be formed in new areas through co-operatives and employment opportunities will be created.

The cabinet approved a proposal to increase family income limit to ₹8 lakh for scholarships for SC and ST students.

NINE KILLED, 10 HURT IN FIERCE GUNFIGHT IN MANIPUR DISTRICT

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

Security personnel on patrol after nine persons were killed and 10 others injured in fresh violence in Manipur, on Wednesday. The toll has already crossed 100 | ANI

NINE persons were killed and 10 others injured after a fierce gun battle between two groups in ethnic violence-hit Manipur on Tuesday night.

The police said the bodies were retrieved early Wednesday morning and kept in the mortuary of a hospital in state capital Imphal. All the deceased were Meiteis who are locked in a turf war with the Kukis. The injured were admitted to different hospitals. The condition of some was stated to be critical.

The incident occurred at Aigijang falling under Khamenlok in the Kuki-majority Kangpokpi district, which adjoins the Meitei-majority Imphal East district. The two groups were engaged in the gunfight the entire evening on Tuesday. There were also reports of arson attacks.

According to reports, when the members of one group were having food (some said they were resting) somewhere, the other group ambushed them with bombs and bullets. Three persons were reportedly missing after the gun battle.

Over 35,000 personnel of army and paramilitary forces have remained deployed in the state. The forces, however, cannot respond to such situations immediately due to resistance from women groups that block their paths. One of the reasons behind such resistance is the suspicion that the forces are favouring one group — a charge already dismissed by defence authorities.

The Opposition Congress continued its attack on the BJP and Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "Modi Govt's shameless drumbeating about Northeast India has drowned the voices of humanity in Manipur," Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge tweeted.

He said it was unthinkable that troops travelling in 19 Assam Rifles vehicles were left stranded and had to be supplied rations by army helicopters on Tuesday. He added that the PM has not even had the time to chair a meeting on Manipur.

Tension in U'khand town over mahapanchayat today

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

EVEN as the organisation of village heads has changed the plans on holding a mahapanchayat in Purola of Uttarkashi district on June 15 after the police took a firm stand, Vishwa Hindu Parishad and Bajrang Dal have come out openly and announced that they will hold a mahapanchayat against 'love jihad.

On the other hand, the Muslim community in Dehradun has announced a mahapanchayat on June 18. The administration has not yet taken a call on it yet.

Swami Darshan Bharti, the founder of Devbhoomi Raksha Abhiyan, a Hindu organisation that first announced the mahapanchayat, was placed under house arrest by police at his Dehradun residence on Wednesday evening when he was about to leave for Purola.

"The movement cannot be crushed by putting me under house arrest like this, the mahapanchayat will be held at all costs," he said. Meanwhile, a vacation bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Ahsanuddin Amanullah in the Supreme Court expressed its unwillingness to entertain a petition seeking to stop the proposed mahapanchayat.

The court said the petitioners, the Association for Protection of Civil Rights, may approach the high court. The case will now be heard in the Nainital High Court on Thursday.

"We will hold a mahapanchayat in Purola against 'love jihad' at all costs, our aim is clear that we will not tolerate demographic imbalance in the district and the state," Virendra Rawat, executive district president of Vishwa Hindu Parishad-Uttarkashi, told this daily.

The district administration has imposed Section 144 in Purola Nagar area till June 19. Sub-divisional magistrate Purola Devanand Sharma said, "Section 144 will be strictly followed and no such activity will be allowed".

V Murugasan, additional director general of police, law and order, told this newspaper, "The border of Uttarkashi has been sealed by the police and people going for the mahapanchayat from outside districts are now being stopped at the border".

The Provincial Armed Constabulary (PAC) has also been dispatched along with additional forces to ensure that 144 is not violated in any manner. Uttarkashi Bharatiya Janata Party district president Satyendra Rana lamented how the issue of Purola was being portrayed negatively by the national and international media.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Rana said, "The statements of national minority leaders smell of communalism, while people from their community are constantly participating in peace meetings with the district administration".

HOW THE EVENTS UNFOLDED

- May 26: A 14-year-old girl was allegedly abuducted by by a Muslim and a Hindu in Purola, which the local residents termed as a case of 'love jihad'
- May 27: The accused Ubaid Khan (24) and Jitendra Saini (23) were arrested. Protests by right-wing groups in various areas, however, continued, resulting in attacks on shops and houses of several Muslims
- May 29: Violence erupted during a protest march in Purola on when some participants targeted and vandalised shops and establishments owned by Muslims
- June 3: Another protest was organised by the Yamuna Valley Hindu Jagruti Sangathan on which was attended by around 900 people
- June 5: Posters surfaced in Purola market in Uttarkashi, asking Muslim traders to close their shops and vacate the state by June 15. A total of 23 families migrated from Purola, including a BJP minority wing leader.
- June 13: Asaduddin Owaisi tweeted and demanded that the government ban the mahapanchayat

Russian cruise missiles kill 6, hit homes

KYIV

RUSSIAN forces fired cruise missiles at the southern Ukrainian city of Odesa and shelled the eastern Donetsk region early on Wednesday, killing at least six persons and damaging dozens of homes, Ukrainian officials said.

In the city of Odesa, three food warehouse employees were killed in a strike that also damaged homes, shops and cafes in the city's downtown, the regional administration said on Facebook. Another 13 people were injured.

Search teams were looking for possible survivors under the rubble of the warehouse, the administration said.

The attack on the port city, launched from the Black Sea, was the second in a week and involved four Kalibr cruise missiles, three of which were intercepted by air defences, the administration said.

In eastern Ukraine, Donetsk province governor Pavlo Kyrylenko wrote on Telegram that at least three persons died after shelling destroyed seven homes and damaged dozens more in the cities of Kramatorsk and Kostiantynivka.

Ten towns and villages along the front line in Donetsk were struck as Kyiv's troops slowly advance, according to Ukraine's presidential office.

A missile hit the Ukrainian-controlled city of Kramatorsk, where Kyiv's forces are headquartered, killing two civilians and wounding two others while damaging 29 homes, the presidential office said. Russian shelling of Kostiantynivka killed one civilian, with 57 houses damaged, it added.

Meanwhile, Ukraine's Deputy Defence Minister Hanna Maliar said on Wednesday the grinding Ukrainian advance is pressing slowly ahead.

Ukrainian troops have advanced 200-500 metres at various sections of the front line around the Donetsk city of Bakhmut and 300-350 metres in the southern Zaporizhzhia region, Maliar claimed. Ukrainian forces have managed to make gains despite the Russian edge in artillery and air power, she said. AP

79 migrants dead as fishing vessel sinks off Greece

Survivors include 30 people from Egypt, 10 from Pak, 35 from Syria & two Palestinians

KALAMATA

A fishing boat carrying migrants trying to reach Europe capsised and sank off Greece on Wednesday, authorities said, leaving at least 79 dead and many more missing.

Coast guard, navy and merchant vessels and aircraft fanned out for a vast search-and-rescue operation set to continue overnight. It was unclear how many passengers might still be in the water or trapped in the vessel, but some reports suggested hundreds of people may have been on board.

Authorities said 104 people have been rescued so far after the boat sank overnight in international waters some 75 kilometres southwest of Greece's southern Peloponnese peninsula. The spot is close to the deepest area of the Mediterranean Sea—and such depths could hamper any effort to locate a sunken metal vessel.

Twenty-five survivors were hospitalised with symptoms of hypothermia.

At the southern port of Kalamata, around 70 exhausted survivors bedded down in sleeping bags and blankets provided by rescuers in a large warehouse, while outside paramedics set up tents for anyone who needed first aid.

Katerina Tsata, head of a Red Cross volunteer group in Kalamata, said the migrants were also given psychological support. "They suffered a very heavy blow, both physical and mental," she said.

The Greek coast guard said 79 bodies have been recovered so far. It said the survivors included 30 people from Egypt, 10 from Pakistan, 35 from Syria and 2 Palestinians.

The Italy-bound boat is believed to have sailed from the Tobruk area in eastern Libya.

The UN's International Organization for Migration acknowledged fears of a large number of missing people, noting in a tweet, "We fear more lives were lost. Initial reports suggest up to 400 people were onboard."

Other Greek officials said survivors had claimed up to 750 people may have been crammed on the fishing boat.

Also on Wednesday, a sailing boat in distress carrying about 80 migrants off Crete was rescued by a coastguard patrol and towed to port, Greece's port police said. Agencies

UPCOMING VISIT

Blinken dials Qin, discusses ways to avoid miscalculation

WASHINGTON

SECRETARY of State Antony Blinken will seek to reduce the chances of miscalculation on a rare upcoming visit to Beijing, officials said on Wednesday.

The State Department confirmed that Blinken will travel this weekend to Beijing on the first trip by a top US diplomat in nearly five years.

Ahead of the trip, Blinken spoke by telephone with Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang and stressed "the importance of maintaining open lines of communication to responsibly manage" the relationship, State Department spokesman Matthew Miller said in a statement. Blinken's trip from June 16 to 21 would also involve London along with Beijing, Miller added.

Daniel Kritenbrink, the top State Department official for East Asia, said that the United States was "realistic" about what Blinken could achieve.

"We're not going to Beijing with the intent of having some sort of breakthrough or transformation," Kritenbrink said.

Instead, Blinken is coming with a "sincere desire to manage our competition in the most responsible way possible."

The US hopes the trip "will, at a minimum, reduce the risk of miscalculation so that we do not veer into potential conflict." Despite extending an invitation to Blinken, China struck a confrontational tone in a readout of the call, saying that Qin had warned that relations between the two countries had faced "new difficulties and challenges" since the beginning of the year. "China has always viewed and managed China-US relations in accordance with the principles of mutual respect, peaceful coexistence and win-win cooperation put forward by Xi Jinping," Qin added.

INTERPOL HELP TO TRACK DOWN U.S. COMEDIAN

Malaysian police said they asked Interpol on Wednesday to help track down a US comedian after her joke about the disappearance of Malaysia Airlines flight MH370 sparked fury and even an apology from Singapore. Jocelyn Chia told the joke during a set at the Comedy Cellar in New York City, reportedly in April. MH370 went missing in March 2014, with all 239 people on board presumed dead. The head of police in the southern state of Johor said that a request had been filed on Wednesday. Kamarul Zaman Mamat said they were seeking "further information regarding the suspect to assist in investigations"

Don pleads not guilty to federal charges

MIAMI

DONALD Trump became the first former president to face a judge on federal charges as he pleaded not guilty in a Miami courtroom on Tuesday to felony counts accusing him of hoarding classified documents and refusing government demands to give them back.

The history-making court date, centered on charges that Trump mishandled government secrets that as commander-in-chief he was entrusted to protect, kick-starts a legal process that will unfold at the height of 2024 presidential campaign.

Trump approached his arraignment with characteristic bravado, posting social media broadsides against the prosecution from inside his motorcade en route to the courthouse and insisting that he has done nothing wrong and was being persecuted for political purposes. But inside the courtroom, he sat silently, scowling and arms crossed, as a lawyer entered a not guilty plea on his behalf in a brief arraignment that ended without him having to surrender his passport or otherwise restrict his travel.

Trump insists he is being targeted for prosecution by a Justice Department weaponised by President Joe Biden. "When you arrest your leading political opponent we no longer have a democracy," Trump said on Tuesday.

June power shortage soars as demand peaks

Demand will continue to stay elevated, and it could even breach the previous high of 223 GW, as per ministry officials

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AS the country is reeling under the heat wave, the power demand has shot up sharply. Average maximum demand met in the first 13 days of June 2023 was more than 213 GW compared to 197 GW in June 2022.

The average daily shortage up to June 13 was 4.7 GW. Last year in June, the average daily shortage was 1.5 GW.

According to the Grid Controller of India, the maximum demand met in June was 223 GW on June 9, 2023, showing an increase of 4.9% from last year's peak demand of 212 GW (1 GW = 1,000 MW).

On June 13, 2023, the maximum demand met during the day stood at 215.35 GW, with a peak shortage of 412 megawatts (MW). As per ministry officials, power demand in the country will continue to stay inflated, and it can even breach the previous high of 223 GW in the coming weeks, thanks to the searing heat and delayed monsoon.

As per forecasts by the India Meteorological Department (IMD) and Skymet Weather, monsoon, rains could be patchy until the first week of July. Currently, the maximum temperatures are in the range of 40-42° in many parts of the country.

In 2022, the maximum power demand met was 212 GW on June 10, 2022. However, this year power ministry expects peak demand to be about 230 GW during April-June. In fact, it is already inching towards it.

As the demand has increased, there are reports of long power cuts. Residents of Odisha, Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh took to social media platforms to report unscheduled power cuts as long as two to three hours. "It all depends on the progress of monsoon. If it is delayed, the peak demand may rise. In terms of power cuts, certain parts of north India are facing power cuts, but overall the power supply situation is fine. Coal stocks are also satisfactory," said Vikram V, Vice President and Sector Head, ICRA Limited.

In terms of state-wise demand, the maximum demand was met in Uttar Pradesh with 27.29 GW, followed by Maharashtra with 27.11GW, Gujarat with 18.23 GW, and Tamil Nadu with 17.19 GW on June 13, 2023. In terms of shortage during the maximum demand, Haryana faced a shortage of 200 MW, Bihar faced a shortage of 144 MW, and Meghalaya faced a shortage of 34 MW on June 13, 2023.

In a bid to ward off a power crisis situation, the government has taken several initiatives this year. The government has extended its direction to imported coal-based plants to operate at full capacity until September 2023. The ministry had invoked Section 11 of the Electricity Act with effect from March 16 to June 15, and now the order has been extended for three more months until September 30.

As per the Central Electricity Authority's daily coal data update, as of June 12, 2023, out of the 180 thermal plants across the country, 52 plants have coal stocks at critical levels.

POWER PLAY

- Power ministry expects peak demand could be about 230 GW during April-June
- Average demand met in first 13 days of June was more than 213 GW compared to 197 GW in June 2022
- Average daily shortage up to June 13 was 4.7 GW as against daily shortage of 1.5 GW in June last year
- As per IMD and Skymet Weather, monsoon, rains could be patchy until the first week of July

CURRENTLY, MAXIMUM TEMPERATURES ARE IN THE RANGE OF 40-42° IN MANY PARTS OF THE COUNTRY

Byju's loan: Firm begins one-on-one talks with lenders

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

EDTECH firm Byju's, embroiled in a legal tussle with its lenders over $1.2 billion term loan B (TLB), has started one-on-one talks with the lenders.

According to the people aware of the matter, the edtech firm has already completed a few discussions with them and these talks are to find mutually beneficial resolutions among lenders and the firm.

These discussions are being done with a majority of the lenders. Sources also said that these discussions are very crucial to the country's most valued edtech firm.

Earlier it was reported that lenders were not ready to engage in the edtech firm's one-on-one meetings, but now sources said they have lined up individual meetings with the lenders.

Last week, Byju's filed a complaint in the New York Supreme Court to challenge the acceleration of the $ 1.2 billion TLB (the firm secured this loan in November 2021) and also sought to disqualify Redwood, an investment management firm.

The company alleged that a series of predatory tactics were conducted by the lenders, led by Redwood. The edtech firm also elected not to make any further payments on the loan including interest until the dispute with lenders was decided by the court. It skipped paying $40 million interest last week.

Immediately, a group of ad hoc term loan lenders, who collectively own more than 85% of the firm's $1.2 billion term loan, called it a meritless lawsuit.

The lender group, comprised of 21 global institutional investors, had sought to work constructively with the company over the past nine months to cure its numerous defaults and it said they will continue to do so in good faith.

In the first week of June, Byju's said it will launch the initial public offering (IPO) of Aakash in mid-2024. It said that Aakash has clocked a three-fold increase in revenue in the last two years.

The edtech major last month raised $250 million in a fresh funding round. It is yet to file its FY22 results, but sources said the company will announce the same soon.

WPI inflation hits 7-yr low of -3.48% in May

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE wholesale price-based inflation rate tumbled to a seven-and-half-year low of (-) 3.48% in May on easing prices of food, fuel and manufactured items, strengthening the case for the RBI to continue with the rate hike pause in the current fiscal. This is the second straight month when WPI has been in the negative zone, mainly due to a higher base and falling prices of fuel and manufactured goods. Food prices also eased during May.

A negative WPI inflation, technically termed as deflation, means overall wholesale prices have been falling year-on-year.

The wholesale price index (WPI) comes within days after the government data showed retail inflation, closely tracked by the RBI to decide on monetary policy, dipped to a 25-month low of 4.25% in May. The fall in WPI-based inflation rate is usually reflected in retail inflation data with a time lag.

Ministries weigh repercussions of sanctions against Russian diamonds

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of External Affairs has asked the Ministry of Commerce to submit a report on the adverse repercussions of toeing the line of G7 countries by restricting import of rough diamond from Russia, a top government sources told this newspaper.

The development comes in the wake of commitment made by G7 countries to impose sanctions on Russian rough diamonds and metals. Majority of the these diamonds are cut and polished in India and then exported to the rest of the world.

As per a commerce ministry official, India wouldn't take any such step which is not in the best interest of the country. "We have been importing Russian oil and it is being exported to other countries including the Western countries. So, I don't think India's decision will get affected by G7 countries. Above all, India will take independent decision in such case as it is not part of G7," the official said. However, he added that India's foreign ministry will have more say in this issue.

In a bid to punish Russia for its invasion of Ukraine, the G7 countries in its three-day summit in Japan had committed to limit Russian revenue from metals and diamonds. Most of the Russian rough diamonds are cut and polished in India but the country directly imports only 10% of Alrosa's (Russian diamonds mining company) total output.

"India's third-largest source of export revenue is from diamonds. So the G7 countries imposing sanctions on Russian diamond will have an adverse impact on India. Demand for diamonds has been affected in our key markets- including China and the US," a top government official said.

Recently, as per reports, a high-level delegation from India's Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) had met Brad Brooks Rubin, the special adviser on sanctions at the US State Department, to discuss the sanctions imposed on Russian diamonds. As per industry experts, the Surat diamond industry has been severely hurt because of the restrictions.

"Surat has over 6,000 diamond polishing units, which employ nearly 10 lakh workers. The industry generates an annual turnover of over ₹1.6 lakh crore. Alrosa supplies over 27% of the world's rough diamonds, so the sanctions will have an impact as there would be less orders from the US and the European markets, impacting jobs here," an industry expert said.

Madhav Sheth quits Realme after 5 years

NEW DELHI: Madhav Sheth, former CEO of Realme India, on Wednesday announced his departure from the company. Sheth, previously held position of VP for Business and Corporate Strategy (Global) at Realme, took to Twitter to share the news. "Goodbye can be disheartening, but the world is too small until we meet again. Farewell for now, but our paths may cross again soon, and that's something to look forward to building a better and bigger future," said Madhav. ENS

GST dept to risk-rate registration seekers

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE tax department is working on risk rating for GST registration seekers, and proposing tightening of the scrutiny process to curb the menace of fake registration under GST.

In an internal note circulated among GST officers, it has been said the applicants will be categorised as high, medium and low risk by Directorate General of Analytics and Risk Management (DGARM), in coordination with GST Network, and the same would be made available to field officers. Special attention will be paid to the cases where "high" risk rating has been assigned to an application for registration.

The note said the documents uploaded by the applicants would be scrutinised by special designated officers to ensure the documents are legible, complete and relevant, and the details or information provided in the application are complete and authentic. If needed the authenticity of the documents furnished as proof of address may be cross-verified from the publicly available sources such as websites of the concerned authorities, land registry, electricity distribution companies, municipalities, and local bodies, etc.

Bain Capital looks to offload 0.7% stake in Axis Bank

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

US private equity firm Bain Capital is likely to sell a 0.7% stake worth $267 million (around ₹2,100 crore) in Axis Bank through block deals on Thursday.

The global private equity company is offering shares in the price range of ₹964-977.70 apiece, a discount of up to 1.4 % to the current market price.

The shares of Axis Bank ended 1% lower at ₹977.7 apiece on the Bombay Stock Exchange.

At the end of fiscal ended March, Bain Capital, through its affiliate BC Asia Investment VII, held 1.3% stake in the private sector lender.

The Boston-headquartered private equity firm had sold 1.2% stake in Axis Bank in October last year.

In March this year, the private lender completed the takeover of Citibank India Consumer Business, which includes retail banking, loans, credit cards, and wealth management services.

Latest entrant Jettwings to start flying from Oct

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AS the country's aviation industry is coming out from the havoc caused by the covid-19 pandemic, new players are eyeing to try their luck in the airline business.

Jettwings Airways, the newest entrant in the aviation sector and the first from the North East region, on Wednesday, announced that it has received the no objection certificate (NOC) to operate Scheduled Commuter Air Transport Services and is aiming to start commercial operations from October 2023.

The airline will have its base in Guwahati and would offer regional connectivity under the government's UDAN scheme to destinations in the Northeast region and eastern cities initially. The airline may start operations from a fleet of two Embraer E-Jets and has earmarked ₹100 crore for initial funding of the project.

"We are expecting two aircraft by October and will immediately start flying operations once the planes are received. The company has plans to lease at least five planes within a year," said Sanjive Narain, Chairman, Jettwings Airways. Narain is the owner of Assam's oldest news channel and has interest in construction, health and automobile businesses.

He added that the airline will look to raise funds of about ₹500 crore for future m expansion. The company, at present, claims to be 'well funded' and 'adequately capitalised' to start and sustain operations.

After expanding operations in the northeastern states, Jettwings would connect to cities such as Kolkata and Lucknow.

SpiceJet faces fresh trouble in UK court

NEW DELHI: Budget carrier SpiceJet is reportedly facing fresh trouble as two aircraft leasing companies, GASL Ireland and VS MSN, have secured a summary judgment worth $15 million against the airline from the London High Court. As per reports, GASL Ireland and VS MSN are expected to seek enforcement of the UK court judgment via the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) in India. Query sent to SpiceJet on the judgement remained unanswered. The fresh setback for the airline comes ahead of the NCLT hearing on Saturday in aircraft lessor Aircastle (Ireland) Limited's second insolvency petition against the airline for unpaid dues. ENS

Shaktikanta Das conferred 'Governor of the Year' award

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

RESERVE BANK OF INDIA (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das has been conferred on the 'Governor of the Year' at London's Central Banking Awards 2023.

The Governor was chosen for the prestigious award earlier this year by 'Central Banking', a London-based organisation which covers and analyses issues around the world's central banks and financial regulators.

Das, while receiving the award, said that central banks at the core of monetary and financial systems have been called to do "heavy lifting" well beyond their traditional mandate. The organisers said that the Reserve Bank of India Governor is being honoured because he has cemented critical reforms, overseen world-leading payments innovation and steered India through difficult times with a steady hand and well-crafted turn of phrase. The other top prize, 'Central Bank of the Year', was awarded to the National Bank of Ukraine.

"COVID had a devastating impact worldwide, and densely populated India looked particularly vulnerable. It was in managing this crisis that Das had perhaps his greatest impact, appearing as a voice of calm amid the fear, and steering the the central bank deftly between intense political pressures on one side and economic disaster on the other," Central Banking said in a statement. Speaking on monetary policy in India, Das cautioned that the cumulative impact of monetary policy actions over the last one year is still unfolding and has yet to materialise fully.

MFIs overtake banks in giving microfinance loans

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

MICROFINANCE Institution (MFIs) have outpaced banks in providing small loans for the first time in four years.

NBFC-MFIs have overtaken banks with their share reaching 39.7% in the total outstanding microfinance loans at the end of fiscal ended March 2023. They emerged as the largest provider of micro-credit with a loan amount outstanding of ₹1.38 lakh crore, as per the data released by the Microfinance Institutions Network. Banks' share was 34.2% with a total loan outstanding of ₹1.19 lakh crore at the end of FY2023.

In fiscal 2022, banks' share was 40% in the total outstanding loans, while share of MFIs was 35%, according to CareEdge Ratings. A year before that the share of MFIs was 31% while banks' share was 44%.

Regulatory changes and pick-up in demand after covid-19 have helped microlender to gain ground. Last year in March, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) had removed caps on the pricing of small loans given by NBFC-MFIs.

The removal of the lending rate cap enabled MFIs to engage in risk-based pricing, which boosted their profitability. Economic recovery after covid-19 fueled the demand for credit.

Banks' share in micro credit falls to 34.2%

NBFC-MFIs emerged as the largest provider of micro-credit with a loan amount outstanding of ₹1.38 lakh crore, as per the data released by the Microfinance Institutions Network. Banks' share was 34.2% with a total loan outstanding of ₹1.19 lakh crore at the end of FY2023

The average loan amount disbursed per account during FY23 was ₹42,010, which is an increase of about 12.9% in comparison to the last financial year. "The microfinance industry experienced a slowdown in growth in FY21 due to the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic. However, growth rebounded in FY22, with NBFC-MFIs growing at 18% Y-o-Y, supported by strong disbursements in the latter part of the fiscal year. This growth momentum is expected to continue, with CareEdge Ratings projecting a healthy loan growth of around 20% in FY23 and 25% in FY24 for NBFC-MFIs," Sanjay Agarwal, Senior Director, CareEdge Ratings told this newspaper.

As on March 31, 2023, the microfinance industry served 6.6 crore unique borrowers, through 13 crore loan accounts. The overall microfinance industry currently has a total Gross Loan Portfolio of Rs3.48 lakh crore. The growth momentum is expected to remain strong in the current fiscal.

Russia's revenue from oil export increases by $1.7 bn

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

Sanctions on Russian oil by Western countries have failed to make any dent in its oil exports.

The country's oil export revenues increased by $1.7 billion to $15 billion in April 2023, as per the monthly report released by the International Energy Agency (IEA). The growth is due to higher crude oil exports and a narrower Urals discount. The report highlights the resilience of Russian oil supply, with its exports reaching post-war at 8.3 million barrels a day (mb/d) in April. "By our estimates, Moscow didn't deliver its announced 500 kb/d (thousand barrels per day) supply cut in full. Indeed, Russia may be boosting volumes to make up for lost revenue. Its oil export revenues rose by $1.7 billion to $15 billion last month but were 27% lower than a year ago while tax receipts from its oil and gas sector were down 64% year-on-year," said the report. Following the war in Ukraine, Western countries imposed various sanctions on Russia's oil industry in an attempt to hinder its profit from oil exports. The European Union, along with the Group of 7 and Australia, implemented a price cap on Russian seaborne crude oil.

THE mercury is touching 40-degree Celsius. The humidity is hovering around 85 per cent. And the athletes are sweating it out, literally at the Kalinga Sports Complex here on Wednesday, giving finishing touches to their strides, jumps and rhythm before the big five days beginning Thursday at the Inter-state Senior National Athletics Championships. It's going to be an early start because of the heat.

With the Asian Games in Hangzhou in September-October in mind, all athletes, including top stars have converged on Odisha Capital. The long list for the athletes has already been made and this will be the final event before finalising the names. Long jump star M Sreeshankar and his father and coach S Murali are there, fresh from a third finish at the Paris Diamond League. He will renew his rivalry with holder Jeswin Aldrin, who with his jump of 8.42m created a new national record and also is the world leader right now.

Men's triple jump is another event that is expected to be close. National record holder and Commonwealth Games gold medallist Praveen Chitravel and Eldhose Paul, the CWG silver medallist are expected to light up the triple jump arena. Though Paul is struggling right now, Abdulla Aboobacker and young Prabhu Thiruman who has crossed the 17m mark will give them good contest. Rising long jump star Shaili Singh will be looking to add a few more centimeters to her personal best of 6.76m. Her coach Robert Bobby George is trying to gather as many points as possible to qualify for the World Championships in Budapest. They will be reaching on June 16.

One contest that the Athletics Federation of India officials and selectors would like to keep a close eye on will be the 400m women's. After Hima Das not being able to run 400m after sustaining a mysterious back injury soon after wining gold and silver at the 2019 Asian Games, all eyes will be on the next gen runners. The famed 4x400m relay team needs to be rebuilt after certain members failing dope tests and some out of form.

It will be an interesting duel between Jeswin Aldrin (L) & M Sreeshankar

Priya Mohan, who won the Federation Cup this year, U-20 Worlds bronze medallist Rupal Chaudhary are expected to give stiff competition to up and coming young star Rezoana Mallick Heena, who recently won the U-20 Asian championships gold. She will be eager to give her best in the senior level. Aishwarya Mishra and Anjali Devi, who has been quite sporadic in her participation in the last few seasons too have entered. If the youngsters do well, AFI will have less headache for 4x400m women's team for Asian Games.

Though Neeraj Chopra is missing, men's javelin throw has already produced above 80m throws this season with Rohit Yadav, DP Manu and Sachin Yadav already achieving it here in the country. Shivpal Singh, who served a reduced doping ban, will be trying to breach 80m this season and get ready for Asiad.

Neeraj, Avinash to miss Asian C'ships

TANMAY DAS @ Bhubaneswar

INDIA chief national athletics coach Radhakrishnan Nair on Wednesday said that with focus on World Championships, Olympic champion Neeraj Chopra and 3000m steeplechase athlete Avinash Sable have been excluded from the upcoming Asian Athletics Championships . He also confirmed here on Wednesday that Hima Das will be missing out on the Asian Games due to injury.

"India's 2020 Tokyo Olympic javelin throw champion Neeraj Chopra and steeplechase specialist Avinash Sable will be excluded from the Indian contingent to compete in the next month's Asian Athletics Championship scheduled to be held in Bangkok, Thailand as the main focus is the world championship," said Nair. "We are in touch with Neeraj and other athletes who are overseas. Now, Neeraj recovered from his injury and started his regular practice from this Monday onwards at Switzerland. On the other hand, promising women athlete Hima Das is suffering from a back injury so she will miss the Asian Games also." Hima Das has shifted to 200m after the injury.

On Dutee Chand's participation, Nair expressed that the 26-year-old national 100m record holder failed an out-of-competition test conducted by the National Anti-Doping Agency (NADA) on December 5. "Nothing has cleared now, so she cannot participate. This Inter-State championship will be under NADA surveillance," he said.

On the opening day, medals in four events will be decided. However, the main focus will be the 400m heats in both men and women's sections. "We have three male runners who are capable of racing quarter-mile below 46 seconds," said Nair before adding, "We are hopeful of having a strong men's 4x400m relay team."

Local favourite and fastest man in the country Amiya Kumar Mallick is confident of getting his timing better every day. "My best timing of the year was 10.32s in the 100m race. I made my preparations and if everything goes well, I am expecting to set a new national record in my home turf."

Watanabe keen to play against Joshna

JAPAN is one of the few nations from Asia that excels in all the racquet sports. Squash is no different as Japan continued to impress and progress in the tournament as they came from behind to beat Hong Kong 3-1 in the Squash World Cup played at the all-glass court, Express Avenue Mall, Chennai on Wednesday.

In the opening match, Toby Tse got the better of Akari Midorikawa to give Hong Kong the lead. The match was anticipated to be a close one with the pair sharing a 1-1 head-to-head record after playing twice in the same month last year. Tse made the brighter start to the match and looked confident as she took the first game 7-5, only for Midorikawa to hit back with a 7-3 win. From here, play became a see-saw battle, which Tse dealt better with as she notched up a pair of 7-4 wins to give her side the lead. In the second match, Ryunsuke Tsukue of Japan quickly wiped out Hong Kong lead with the Japan No 1, wasting no time in going after Andes Ling. Tsukue flew into the lead with a 7-1 victory and never looked like letting it slip, taking game two 7-4 and game three 7-1.

In the third game, Satomi Watanabe initially looked to be cruising past Heylie Fung, with the powerful World No.18 blasting into a 2-0 lead with comfortable 7-2, 7-1 wins. Fung of Hong Kong was in her element in the third game and hit her targets better, which was rewarded with a 7-5 win for the 20-year-old, before an improved Watanabe closed things out in the fourth with a 7-2 victory. In the final match, Tomotaka Endo played much better than what he did on Tuesday and romped home with a 3-0 victory over Chung Yat Long.

Japan will face hosts and No 2 seed India on Thursday in the final tie of the pool stage.

"I think I started really well and got my pace and my rhythm and then in the third game she changed things a little bit and at the same time I lost my concentration in the middle of thegame, which wasn't great for me. But then in the fourth, I regrouped and got my concentration and to finish it 7-2 gives me a little bit of confidence," said Watanabe after the win.

"I really love this atmosphere and the huge shopping mall with this glass court. I was just having fun."

On playing against Joshna Chinappa (her opponent on Thursday), Watanabe said, "I haven't actually shared a court with her yet so I'm really looking forward to playing against Joshna, but all I can do is give my best and enjoy the match," added Watanabe.

NZ all-rounder Bracewell to miss 2023 ODI World Cup

AUCKLAND: All-rounder Michael Bracewell has been ruled out of this year's ODI World Cup in India after rupturing his Achilles tendon, dealing New Zealand yet another blow ahead of the marquee event. The big-hitting off-spinner has been sidelined for six-eight weeks after suffering the injury on his right leg on June 9 while playing for Worcestershire Rapids in the English T20 Blast. Bracewell is scheduled to undergo surgery in the UK on Thursday after which he will start a lengthy rehab that will keep him away from the ODI World Cup, starting in India from October 5. "Michael's a great team man and has had a fantastic 15 months for New Zealand since his international debut. We've seen his exceptional skills in all three facets of the game and he was shaping as an important player for us at the World Cup in India. "The power that he's got ... gives us a little bit of a fear factor," New Zealand head coach Gary Stead said.

India to start 2023-25 cycle with WI tour

BENGALURU: India will begin the 2023-2025 ICC World Test Championship (WTC) cycle with the upcoming tour to the West Indies in July and over the next two-year period will play some high-profile bilateral series against Australia and England among others. India will travel to West Indies next month to play two Test matches in Dominica (July 12-16) and Trinidad (July 20-24). India have been finalists in the first two editions of the WTC, losing to New Zealand (2021) and to Australia (2023) in the final. The WTC 2023-25 cycle will begin with the Ashes, when England face Australia in Birmingham on Friday. After the tour to Windies, India's next WTC assignment will be on away shores against South Africa between December 2023 and January 2024.

Lord's, Oval, Headingley among five centres for India Tests in 2025 England series

LONDON: The hallowed Lord's, iconic Oval, seamer-friendly Headingley are among the five centres where Indian cricket team will play its Test matches during its 2025 tour, England & Wales Cricket Board (ECB) announced on Wednesday. The ECB announced its home calendar for the seven-year cycle between 2025-2031 involving its men's and women's teams. According to the ICC FTP, India are set to tour England for five Tests in June 2025 and ECB said in a release that these matches will be played at Lord's, The Oval (both in London), Edgbaston (Birmingham), Headingley (Leeds) and the Old Trafford (Manchester) for the Pataudi Trophy. The Rose Bowl in Southampton, where India lost the first World Test Championship final to New Zealand two years ago, replaces Headingley as a venue for the series in 2029, while the other four venues ' Lord's, The Oval, Edgbaston and Old Trafford remain the same.

Najmul ton puts Bangladesh on top on Day 1

MIRPUR: Najmul Hossain hit his third century as Bangladesh dominated Afghanistan's bowlers to reach 362-5 on the opening day of their one-off Test. Najmul scored 146 off 175 balls, hitting 23 fours and two sixes. At stumps, Mehidy Hasan was batting on 43 with Mushfiqur Rahim on 41, after sharing 72 runs for the sixth wicket.

Wrestlers' case: Delhi Police likely to submit investigation report today

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

DELHI Police will most likely submit its investigation report on Thursday at a local court in the sexual harassment case filed against Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh.

Sources privy to the investigation told this newspaper that the police have acquired some videos and chats related to the case, which they will submit before the court, along with the testimonies of over 150 witnesses.

On whether a charge sheet will be filed by the police, the source without mentioning any specific date said that Police Commissioner Sanjay Arora has reviewed the progress of the investigation and given his approval to proceed with the report.

Seven women wrestlers had submitted a complaint of sexual harassment at the Connaught Place police station in Delhi against the WFI chief on April 21. The police, after the Supreme Court's intervention, registered two FIRs on April 28. The wrestlers had already threatened that if Singh is not arrested then they would relaunch their protest.

There are reports that the police are in touch with wrestling federations of at least five countries and have sought whatever evidence possible.

The first FIR pertained to allegations levelled by a minor was been registered under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act along with relevant sections of the Indian Penal Code concerning outraging modesty. The second one has been registered over complaints by adults pertaining to outraging modesty.

Both the FIRs, which were accessed by this newspaper, reveal the horrific experiences which the women wrestlers, including a 17-year-old minor girl, were facing in the presence of Singh. The FIR in the case of the minor wrestler was lodged on the complaint of her father under sections 354 (Assault of criminal force to woman with intent to outrage her modest), 354A (Sexual harassment and punishment for sexual harassment.) 354D (Stalking) and 34 (common intention) of the IPC and relevant section of the POCSO.

However, in what could be seen as a major twist in the case, the father of the minor wrestler recently came forward and claimed that he had lodged a 'false' complaint of sexual harassment against Singh following latter's impartial treatment towards his daughter. The father, while speaking to this newspaper, said that he got infuriated after his daughter failed to qualify for the final trials in 2022 of the Asian Championship.

The police even served separate notices under section 91 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to the victim women wrestlers and asked them to provide photos, audio, and video as evidence for their allegations.

Indonesia Open: Lakshya, Srikanth enter Round 2

JAKARTA: Indian shuttler Lakshya Sen and compatriot Kidambi Srikanth eased into the second round of the men's singles at the Indonesia Open World Tour Super 1000 event here on Wednesday. While Lakshya took just 32 minutes to quell the challenge of Lee Zii Jia of Malaysia (World No 11) 21-17, 21-13, Srikanth got the better of Guang Zu Lu of China 21-13, 21-19. Another Indian, Priyanshu Rajawat, got a walkover from Kunlavut Vitidsarn of Thailand to seal his place in the next round. However, it was curtains for young Indian female shuttler Aakarshi Kashyap as she crashed out in the opening round. Kashyap was no match for second seed An Se Young of Korea, losing 10-21, 4-21.

Young chess ace Raunak excited about GCL

NEW DELHI: The Global Chess League, a joint venture between Tech Mahindra and FIDE, aims to bring the best among the men, women and U21 players to the forefront. The tournament is scheduled to be played in Dubai from June 21 to July 2. Indian ace Raunak Sadhwani, who earned himself the Grandmaster's title in 2020 when he was 13 years old, will be representing the Balan Alaskan Knights. "I think it's definitely an amazing initiative which gives players opportunities to showcase their games. And I personally enjoy playing team events more. Firstly, it's fun to be with the team throughout the event where we can discuss about many things like pre-game preparation, and post-game analysis. In team events, every person plays a part in the overall success of the team. This is a great way to see how you can make a difference," the 17-year-old said.

BCCI invites tender for nat'l team's lead sponsor

NEW DELHI: The BCCI invited tender applications from interested business houses for national cricket team's lead sponsorship rights after Ed-Tech major BYJUs left the scene at the end of the last financial year. "The BCCI invites bids from reputed entities for acquiring the National Team Lead Sponsor rights," BCCI secretary Jay Shah said in a release. The bid document can be bought for a non-refundable fee of Rs 5 lakh and last date of purchase of will be June 26.

In open letter to NFs, IBA chief stresses importance of unity

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

Amateur boxing has been engulfed in issues off the ring for a long time and is now staring at an uncertain future after the International Olympic Committee's recommendation to IOC Session to withdraw recognition of International Boxing Association (IBA), the governing body of the sport, last week. This means the sport is in danger of missing out on the Olympics in future. After several reforms, IBA chief Umar Kremlev was hopeful of getting the backing from IOC but it was not to be. After the IOC's latest call, Kremlev, in an open letter to all the national federations affiliated to IBA, stressed on the importance of togetherness in times like this.

"I hereby write to provide you with an update on recent developments and to reinforce the importance of unity within our boxing community," Kremlev wrote.

Umar Kremlev (L) during IBA Women's World C'ships in New Delhi earlier this year

Despite the unfavourable decision, Kremlev noted that the IBA does not have any issues with IOC and called out on 'certain personalities who attempt to destroy the sport'. "We do not have any issues with the IOC or the Olympic Movement, but rather, we have issues with certain personalities, who continue the way of CK Wu and attempt to destroy boxing through their pursuit of personal benefits," he said. Wu was formerly the president of the world boxing federation and was also a member of the IOC.

"It is truly sad to see certain sports administrators, who should be peacekeepers and call for transparency and honesty but have clearly forgotten about their direct responsibilities, which are to protect every national federation, athletes, and coaches," he added.

In a detailed 24-page report, IOC explained why IBA failed to regain recognition. IBA was under suspension for governance issues, lack of financial transparency and for issues surrounding its refereeing and judging process.

"The report establishes that the IBA has failed to fulfil the conditions set by the IOC in its decision communicated to the IBA on 9 December 2021 – which was not challenged by the IBA – for lifting the suspension of the IBA's recognition," the IOC Executive Board had stated on June 7.

This is a long-standing issue with IBA (formerly known as AIBA) being under suspension since 2019. Kremlev joined in late 2020 and had made several reforms in bid to regain IOC recognition.

"We saved our organization that was on the brink of bankruptcy. Our problems were rooted in the past, and we are not the ones to be blamed for it," he noted.

"It is us who are cleaning the sport of boxing, not the IOC and its members. We develop our sport. The Olympic Games are held once every four years, while we are taking care of all other competitions. We are responsible to children, boxers and coaches, and our mission is to defend their rights and independence." he added.

The IOC Session (world body's supreme body), who will make the ultimate call, is now due to decide the fate of IBA on June 22.

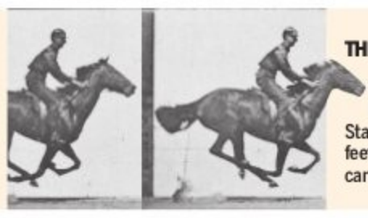
Photographer Eadweard Muybridge used high-speed stop-motion photography to capture a horse's motion on this day in 1878

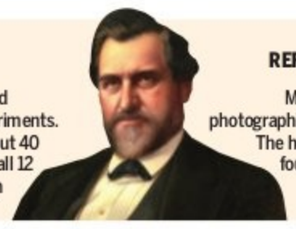
EXPOSURE TRICK

With a rigged trip wire across racetrack, he letthe horse's chest push against the wire to engage an electric circuit opening the shutter mechanism to make the exposure



THE MOMENT

Leland Stanford financed Muybridge's photo experiments. Stanford's trotter drove about 40 feet per second, setting off all 12 cameras in rapid succession



REFINING INVENTION

Muybridge showed the photographic plates to the press. The horse, indeed, lifted all four legs off the ground during its stride

SHOOTING ALL SHOTS

Pankaj Advani, presently in Iran to participate in the Asian Team Snooker and Asian 6 Reds Snooker Championships, speaks about representing India for all these years and how Bengaluru shaped him into the snooker star that he is today

MONIKA MONALISA

INDIA'S most loved cueist Pankaj Advani got his hand on his first cue at the age of 10 and so far has gone on to win 25 World Titles and 13 Asian Titles across both snooker and billiards. Hopes are high to see more of these titles add up as he is currently in Iran to participate in the Asian Team Snooker Championship and the Asian 6 Reds Snooker Championship happening from June 16 to 22, with competitors from 20 countries taking part.

"I am excited to represent India in both events. Since it's a short format, anything is possible. However, India has done well in the past. A medal-winning performance is what I'll be striving to achieve," says the 37-year-old.

Considered the poster boy for snooker in India, Advani feels the snooker scene has improved a lot in the country. "We have got so many tournaments now. Earlier it was just the clubs with a snooker table, and it was considered very niche. But now, we can see many hangouts in the city having snooker tables where people can try it out. Also, when you have so many players in the game it just adds to the inspiration," says Advani, adding that he grew up watching the likes of Geet Sethi and Micheal Ferreira.

frankly speaking

However, it was Advani's elder brother and sports psychologist, Shree Advani who passed on to him the metaphorical 'snooker baton'. "Shree used to play this game initially. He used to play at Bowring Institute but I wasn't allowed to play due to being underage! I only watched and learned at that time. It was during the summer holidays in 1996, when I used to watch him play at a snooker parlour called Top Gun in Fraser Town, a few minutes walk from my house on Wheeler Road...After three years of watching him play, I thought why not give it a shot? And in my first shot, I got the ball in. I would like to think it was natural talent," says Advani with a laugh, further adding, "After that shot, I was hooked to the game."

With so many laurels like the Padma Bhushan and various championship titles to his name, Advani mentions it was his first World Championship in 2003 that continues to hold a special place. "I went to China to play in the World Championship and was representing India for the first time. I went there as a nobody. I was supposed to be knocked out of the tournament, but a fluke changed the whole course. I went on to win the world championship at the age of 18," recalls Advani. That year Advani defeated a player from Pakistan to win the coveted trophy. "I remember it was Deepavali, and many people mentioned it as 'Pankaj's Diwali gift to India'. It was a special moment for me," he says.

> I went to China to play in the World Championship and was representing India for the first time. I went there as a nobody. I was supposed to be knocked out of the tournament, but a fluke changed the whole course
>
> Pankaj Advani, snooker player

A quintessential Bengaluru boy, Advani's family moved to Bengaluru from Kuwait after the Gulf War broke and mostly 'because of the city's lovely weather'. He did his schooling at Frank Anthony Public School. "I was a very shy boy in school. My school was really supportive of my sporting career. When they saw me succeeding, they encouraged me and I even got to miss a few exams," adds Advani with a smile.

When you have a charming personality, with a promising sports career at such a young age, it's not hard to lose focus. "Since I have to practice, which is both mentally and physically challenging, I have to have a disciplined life, and I wouldn't have it any other way," says Advani, adding that he loves watching superhero movies when he is not preparing for his tournaments. Apart from his professional career, he is also working towards introducing billiards to different schools in India, where children can get access to proper professional training.

A still from the play

Mirth in the face of morality

Playwright T P Kailasam's satirical comedy Poli Kitty, a humorous critique of the education system, is being staged today

DESE GOWDA

OFTEN known as 'the father of humorous plays', writer and playwright TP Kailasam's (1884-1946) contribution to Kannada literature is immense. At a time when the company theatre landscape was on a decline, steadily losing viewers due to the falling quality of plays, Kailsam's works were a breath of fresh air. Initially criticised for his modern use of the Kannada language in stark departure to the times, Kailasam's works gained popularity and are often credited for rejuvenating Kannada company theatre, along with a few of his contemporaries. One of Kailsam's most popular plays, Poli Kitty, is being staged at Ravindra Kalakshetra today by city-based theatre group Drishya.

Dakshayini Bhat, a veteran thespian of over three decades and the recipient of the prestigious Ustad Bismillah Khan Yuva Puraskar, has directed the play. "In the recent theatre landscape, most people, especially the younger generation, are aware of works by playwrights like Girish Karnad, Chandrashekhara Kambara, and even western writers such as Shakespeare. But few are aware of TP Kailasam and Shriranga, who were instrumental in reversing the decline of Kannada company theatre in the early part of the 20th century," Bhat says, adding that she decided to stage Poli Kitty to reintroduce Kailasam's works, which tackle serious socio-economic issues in a humorous and satirical way, to young Bengalureans.

Set in a fictional village, Poli Kitty explores the life of a young, naive-yet-kind-hearted individual named Kitty. Through the titular character, the play explores the human tendency to be deceived by appearances and to explore the consequences of one's actions. "When people hear the name, they often think it has a sleazy plot filled with double-entendres. But it couldn't be farther from that notion. It explores the life of this naive and simple character who has been battered by poverty and lacks education, yet the fundamental human values within him shine through at the end. The oft-overlooked role that poverty and a lack of egalitarian education play in one's life is at the heart of this play," Bhat adds.

Despite tackling a serious subject, in typical Kailasam style, the play delivers the subject through biting humour and wit. "Most of Kailasam's works can be characterised as black comedies. Using humour and satire as mediums, he would tackle the issues that plagued Indian society at the time. In fact, most of his works are still relevant to this day," Bhat concludes.

FIT BIT

NIRAKUNJASANA NAMASKAR

(WATER GROVE POSE NAMASKAR)

This forms as part of the classical Surya Namaskar, used as an alternative to Chaturanga Dandasana. Its focus is directed to the Manipura (solar plexus) chakra. It improves the mobility of the back and increases arm strength and opens the chest.

STEPS

- Begin by coming into the plank pose. Your palms are well stretched and deep-seated. Your toes firm on the floor and heels apart.
- Exhale and drop your knees, chest down and shoulder to the floor. While coming down, engage your core muscles to slowly acquire the posture.
- Your elbows should be in the vicinity of the ribs. The shoulder should be in between the palms and are rolled up forward to allow the expansion of the chest.
- From here, raise the hips and let your abdomen and mid-torso engage completely so that either your chin or forehead touch the floor.
- Assure that your belly is pulled in, with a slight upraised arch in your entire back.
- Your body should be on both toes, knees, and either the chin or the forehead, keeping both your hands in Namaskar Mudra at the front side of your body.
- Maintain here and breathe slowly for a few minutes or as per comfort.
- Inhale and slowly raise your chin, chest, shoulder, leave the belly and knees up in the plank pose.
- Finally, relax in Makarasana (Crocodile Pose).

BENEFITS

- This asana is more helpful to revitalise the body.
- It relaxes the lumbar region, especially for people who are often sitting in uncomfortable positions for extended periods of time.
- It helps the ascent of Kundalini Shakti, creating the right conditions for a profound spiritual transformation.
- This helps to restore the natural curvature of the spine.
- It is more helpful to strengthen the back muscles.
- It also improves sexual energy, helping the practice of Brahmacharya, one of the five Yamas of Patanjali.

LIMITATIONS

People who have problems in the lumbar area and have blood pressure or migraine, avoid this.

Avoid this pose if you have carpal tunnel syndrome, wrist injury, or any recent injuries to your neck, shoulder or elbow.

If you are pregnant, avoid this pose after the first trimester.

SCREENING SUNSCREEN

Here's everything you didn't know about sunscreen

WHEN TO USE SUNSCREEN
Daily use: UV rays are present year-round, even on cloudy or cooler days. Hence it is essential to use sunscreen daily in your AM routine. It is always recommended to apply sunscreen prior to direct sun exposure, about 15-30 minutes is ideal.
Reapplication: Sunscreen's effectiveness diminishes over time, especially with exposure to water, sweat, or rubbing of the skin. Reapplying sunscreen every two hours, or more frequently helps maintain adequate protection.

DR CHYTRA ANAND

EVERY dermatologist recommends sunscreen as the basic building block of a regular skincare routine. It is often said that the least you could do for your skin is apply sunscreen if you don't wish to have a lengthy routine. Let's have a look at everything that you need to know about sunscreen, from why to how. Why is sunscreen essential in your daily routine?

Sunscreen protects against harmful UV rays: Sunscreens are specifically designed to protect the skin from the damaging effects of ultraviolet (UV) radiation. It acts as a barrier, preventing the sun's harmful rays from penetrating the skin and causing damage.

Protects against skin cancer: Exposure to UV radiation is a major risk factor for skin cancer. Regular use of sunscreen can help to reduce this risk by protecting your skin from the harmful effects of the sun.

Prevents premature ageing: UV radiation can cause premature ageing of the skin, leading to wrinkles, fine lines, and age spots. Sunscreen helps to prevent these signs of ageing by protecting the skin from UV damage.

Reduces the risk of sunburn: Sunburn can be painful and uncomfortable, and it can also increase the risk of skin cancer. Sunscreen helps to prevent sunburn by blocking UV radiation from reaching the skin and hence preventing excess melanin production.

Helps to even out skin tone: Sun exposure can cause uneven skin tone, with some areas of the skin becoming darker than others. Sunscreen helps to prevent this by protecting the skin from UV radiation and reducing the risk of hyperpigmentation or tanning.

Prevents dark spots: Sun exposure can cause dark spots on your skin. Sunscreen helps to prevent these spots from forming and can even help to fade existing ones.

Protects against other environmental stressors: In addition to UV radiation, the skin is also exposed to other environmental stressors such as pollution and blue light from electronic devices. Sunscreen can help to protect the skin from these stressors and keep it healthy and radiant.

Choosing the right sunscreen

Choosing the right sunscreen can be overwhelming, given the variety of options available in the market. So how do you choose the right one? Let's find out:

SPF: The Sun Protection Factor (SPF), is a measure of how well a sunscreen protects against UVB rays. SPF 40 blocks 97.5 per cent while SPF 50 blocks around 98 per cent. Dermatologists recommend sunscreens with a minimum SPF 40 for your protection.

Broad-spectrum: Formulated to protect against both UVA and UVB rays. UVA rays can lead to premature ageing, while UVB rays are responsible for sunburns. Choosing a broad-spectrum sunscreen ensures comprehensive protection against both types of UV radiation. Look for the PA rating on the sunscreen packs to know its effectiveness.

Water-resistant: Make sure your sunscreen is water-resistant if you plan to swim or tend to sweat a lot.

Skin type: Sunscreen formulations are available to cater to different skin types and concerns. Whether you have oily, dry, sensitive, or acne-prone skin, there is a sunscreen option suitable for your specific needs. For example, if you have oily skin, look for a lightweight, oil-free sunscreen.

Ingredients: Look for made safe certification to ensure your sunscreen is free of harmful toxins, also look for new age sunscreens with blend of anti oxidant Vitamin C which will give additional protection especially for Indian skin.

How to use sunscreen correctly

Start with a clean face: Wash your face with a gentle cleanser and pat it dry.

Apply moisturiser: Apply a lightweight moisturiser to your face to hydrate your skin.

Apply sunscreen: Squeeze two fingers worth of sunscreen onto your fingertips and apply it to your face in dots.

Spread it evenly: Gently spread the sunscreen all over your face and neck, making sure to cover all areas, including your nose, cheeks, forehead, and chin.

Wait before applying makeup: Wait a few minutes for the sunscreen to absorb into your skin before applying makeup or going outside.

Over 60 per cent youth in India are susceptible to e-cigarettes: Study

Almost 61 per cent of people aged between 15-30 in India who have never used electronic cigarettes (e-cigarette) before are susceptible to taking up vaping in the future, according to a new study. The study, based on an international survey of 4,007 people, including 456 from across India, identified exposure to e-cigarette advertising as having the second greatest effect on susceptibility, after current or past tobacco use, while perceived harmfulness reduced the likelihood of susceptibility. According to the World Health Organization (WHO), susceptibility to e-cigarette use among young people is a major public health concern due to the adverse health effects of nicotine on the developing brain and potential negative outcomes from other chemicals present in the devices. "There is a growing concern that young people in India are becoming increasingly susceptible to the use of e-cigarettes. Urgent interventions and comprehensive campaigns addressing the risks and impact of e-cigarette use are imperative," said Sudhir Raj Thout, a research fellow at the institute in India. Furthermore, the survey showed that in India, 51 per cent, who had never used e-cigarettes before were curious about them, 49 per cent said they would use them if offered by a friend, and 44 per cent had intentions to use them in the next year. —IANS

Keto diet could be the latest weapon against cancer: Study

The ketogenic diet – consisting of high-fat, low-carb foods – known to help lose up to 10 per cent of your body weight, can also be used to fight cancer, suggests a study. The popular weight loss diet is known to trick the body into burning its own fat and help in weight loss. Similarly, the diet may also help fight a variety of cancers by starving tumours of the glucose they need to grow, said researchers in the study published in the journal Cell Metabolism. In the study conducted in mice with pancreatic and colorectal cancer, keto was found to accumulate toxic lipid byproducts and kill cancer cells by a process called ferroptosis. While this slows tumour growth it also causes early-onset cachexia – a lethal wasting disease called cachexia. Patients and mice with cachexia experience loss of appetite, extreme weight loss, fatigue, and immune suppression. The disease has no effective treatment and contributes to about two million deaths per year. — IANS

'Certain projects may remain incomplete, but their stories should not'

Director Vinu Balanja dives Into new territory with his debut, Bera, as he reflects on his journey from serials, the challenges of Naathuram, and the power of unfinished stories

A SHARADHAA

Director Vinu Balanja along with Harshika Poonacha on the sets of his film, Bera

VINU Balanja aspired to be an actor but fate led him to filmmaking. He is a well-known name in world of the small screen since 1998, who has earned recognition for directing TV serials like Preethi Illada Mele featuring Yash and Anant Nag, Neeharika, Love Lavike, and Janaki Raghava. Vinu has collaborated with renowned personalities like TN Seetharam and P Seshadri, and the production house like Vajreshwari.

"While there are numerous avenues for artists and directors to explore today, there is a notable difference between working in the small screen and films," he says, expressing his enthusiasm on venturing into new horizons with Bera.

Notably, Vinu would have made his debut in the film industry with Naathuram, starring Rishab Shetty if everything had gone as planned.

However, although one schedule was completed, the project was abruptly halted for unknown reasons, and the subsequent pandemic further hindered its progress. "There are various reasons why a film may face obstacles, and Naathuram, which had a promising start, unfortunately couldn't proceed. It would have undoubtedly been a milestone in my career and a noteworthy film for the Kannada industry," expresses Vinu, who still hopes to resume Naathuram and present it content to the audience. "Certain projects may remain incomplete, but their stories should not. I aspire to bring it to fruition someday," he asserts.

Currently, Vinu Balanja is preparing for the release of Bera, scheduled for June 16, alongside the highly anticipated Pan India film Adipurush, starring Prabhas. Bera has garnered attention primarily due to its content. According to Vinu, who is also the story writer, Bera delves into a socio-political theme, portraying the growing communalisation of society, particularly in the coastal belt of Karnataka. The film has generated buzz through its intriguing rushes and teasers and has drawn comparisons with films like The Kashmir Files (2022) and The Kerala Story (2023). However, the director emphasises that Bera, with its unique storyline, stands out as an unexplored concept in Kannada cinema. "Derived from the Tulu language, the title Bera translates to 'Business,' and the tagline 'Merchant of Death' adds significant meaning to the film," explains the director, emphasising that Bera addresses the issue of communal violence driven by hidden agendas and focuses on targeted leadership.

"'Birth is a divine decision, and it is the responsibility of each individual to accept its outcomes', is the underlying theme of Bera. It is absolutely unjustifiable for anyone to possess the authority to take another person's life," he says.

Bera, produced by Divakar Das, primarily unfolds in Kalladka, a town situated in the Bantwal taluk of Dakshina Kannada, known for its history of communal conflicts. With a clear vision of capturing the authentic essence of the location, the director incorporated the local Kalladka dialect, adding a touch of local flavour to the storytelling. "The film revolves around the Kalladka museum, where four antique pillars and 194 ancient coins managed by my friend, served as the inspiration for Bera," reveals the director and adds that the film explores not only communalisation but also sheds light on religious terrorism through two main characters, Vishnu and Salim, portrayed by Rakesh Maiya and Yash Shetty.

The film stars notable artists like Dattanna, Suman Talwar, Manjunath Hegde, Harshika Poonachcha, Ashwin Hassan, and Chitkala Biradar. Bera music is composed by Manikanth Kadri.

Nishivika Naidu talks about her first-ever special number, says that it provided her an opportunity to showcase her dancing talent

'IT IS EQUALLY REWARDING TO EMBRACE THE GLAMOROUS SIDE AND SHINE ON SCREEN'

Nishvika Naidu

CE FEATURES

YOGARAJ Bhat's upcoming sports drama, Garadi, is generating the right buzz, especially with the pivotal roles of Darshan and BC Patil. The latter is also producing the film under the Sowmya Films And Kourava Production House. Starring Soorya and Sonal Monteiro in the lead, the makers recently unveiled the first-look poster of Soorya in a wrestler's avatar. They have now released the first single, which marks the first-ever special song for actor Nishvika Naidu.

Titled Hodirele Halagi, the song is written by Yogaraj Bhat in the North Karnataka dialect and composed by V Harikrishna. Since its release, the song has quickly become a hit among listeners. Sharing her excitement, Nishvika states that it provided her an opportunity to showcase her dancing talent. "I have never done a full-fledged dance number with the spotlight solely on me, and Hodirele Halagi presented me with that opportunity," says Nishvika, who has a background in classical dance and is trained in film and folk steps. Strongly believing that such songs are more about the movements rather than perfection, Nishvika says, "Harsha master had planned a set of compositions and I enjoyed dancing to the tunes, despite the challenges."

The actor also opined that special numbers in Kannada films should provide more opportunities for local heroines, who are not only talented but also excel in dancing. This is her second guest appearance in a Yogaraj Bhat film after Gaalipata 2. Incidentally, Nishvika is also playing the lead in the director's next, Karataka Dhamanaka, starring Shivarajkumar and Prabhudheva. "I know a director like Yogaraj Bhat would take a lot of care in casting an actor, and I'm glad I got the opportunity."

While currently occupied with Karataka Dhamanaka, Nishvika is taking her time to choose her next project. "I believe the year holds promising for me, and I'm optimistic about exploring new characters and not returning to roles I have played so far. That is why I accepted the dance number in Garadi. It allowed me to showcase a side of me that viewers have not seen before," says Nishvika, who emphasises the importance of versatility for actors. "We should not be confined to playing only the girl-next-door roles. While it is crucial to fully immerse oneself in a character, it is equally rewarding to embrace the glamorous side and shine on screen."

Aryann takes on multiple responsibilities for The Bhavani Files

Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar launched the title of Aryann's next, The Bhavani Files

CE FEATURES

BIGG Boss contestant and actor Aryann, known for his role in his last film, Dear Sathya, has completed shooting for his Malayalam debut (Dileep's-Arun Gopy's film), and has now announced his next project in Kannada. Titled The Bhavani Files, the first look poster and title was launched by Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar on Wednesday. Interestingly, Aryann, who is currently preparing for The Bhavani Files, plans to take on multiple responsibilities. Not only will he play the lead role in the film, but he will also serve as the creative director.

Speaking about the project, Aryann revealed that the film is inspired the 14th century cult known as 'Thugs' and he, along with a group of friends, will be writing, directing, and producing it. The screenplay has been penned by Mohan Menon, Jacob Verghese, and Aryann. Chetan D Souza has been roped in to choreograph the stunts, while Joe Costa will serve as the music director.

The film will be made under the banner of White Horse Productions, in collaboration with Winter Bridge Studios. With the makers planning to commence shooting in September, more details about the remaining cast and technical team will be revealed soon by the production company

I always enjoyed juggling between the medical profession and acting: Dr. Leela Mohan

CE FEATURES

IN recent times, several individuals from the medical field have achieved recognition in the film industry, and the newest addition to this trend is Dr. Leela Mohan. Serving as a general physician, Mohan is part of the lead cast in the upcoming film, Road King, which is set to be released on June 23.

Reflecting on his journey, Mohan says, "I always enjoyed juggling between my medical profession and acting. After my stint in the Kannada TV serial, Baduku, I took a hiatus to pursue higher studies in the medical field. During that time, I never stayed away from the arc lights. I acted in short films and even established my own production house, Laughing Peacock Productions, and acted in short films. My entry into the film industry began with Gadiyara, which was shot a few years ago. I also had the opportunity to work in Priyanka Upendra's Ugravatara as well as in few other films. Furthermore, I made my Telugu debut with Kalyanamastu, and now, I am eagerly anticipating the release of Road King."

Regarding his involvement in Road King, a film directed by Hollywood filmmaker Randy Kent, Mohan says, "I play a significant role alongside debutant actor Mateen Hussain. The film revolves around an incident that took place in Kolar a few years ago, and what sets it apart is the unique approach of Randy Kent directing the entire film through video conferencing." The movie also features Rukshar Dhillon, Harish Sejekan, Nayana Shetty, and others in prominent roles. With Arif Lalani as the cinematographer and sound designer Scott Wolf working in Road King, the film has been edited by Shri Crazy Minds.
